Ex-Kaiser's Wealth Saved by Germans

CONFISCATION PLAN GETS VOTE OF 14,890,000

Stay-at-Homes Beat Referendum.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BERLIN, June 20.—A total of 14,890,000 Germans voted today for the confiscation of 600,000,000 in castles, parks, and other property of the former emperor, other princely rulers, and their families. A vast majority of the balance of Germany's 24,000,000 voters stayed away from the polls, accepting the viewpoint of President von Hindenburg and the Marx government that private property is sacred and consequently the private property of the emperor should be returned to them.

Under the referendum law, 15,000,000 votes were required to order the confiscation of the vast wealth of the royal families. The referendum, thus, was beaten by the stay-at-home voters.

In Germany a constitutional amendment must be submitted to a national referendum. A majority of the registered voters must cast a majority of votes cast must favor the change before it can be effected. It was under this system that Germany voted yesterday on the question of seizing the property of the royal families. In order to carry the referendum, its supporters had to poll a total of 15,000,000 votes.

May Offer Princes 15 Per Cent.
In Berlin and big industrial centers, such as Dresden, 60 per cent of the population voted against the princes, while in the provinces where royalty still enjoys a remnant of their popularity, only 37 per cent voted against them.

The government promises to submit a compromise settlement of the princes' claims to the reichstag tomorrow. It will reduce the quota of private property allotted to the princes, since the government is anxious to obtain the support of the socialists to carry through the compromise law before the end of the session.

The socialists' leaders declared tonight they would accept the law, provided it granted the princes only 15 per cent of their pre-war incomes. Savings of Germans who invested in national war bonds have been revaluated by the government with 15 per cent, and the socialists insist that the princes receive the same deal.

Called "Victory for Honesty."
Socialists acclaimed the result of the referendum a great victory for the government, and for "the common sense of the German people, who resist the taking of the princes' private property without compensation." They would not have it that the emperor's reputation for honesty.

The referendum, which was characterized by Leon Trotsky, Russian Bolshevik leader, in an interview given to the newspaper, Nachrichten, as the first step in the liquidation of the property of the bourgeoisie, found the bulk of the German nation more interested in their battle with the political problem. This sense of the political problem, they said, was the reason why they voted from the polls.

Only the communists and fascists, in the competition, exerted themselves to attract the sympathy of the voters. Both parties paraded in the streets of Berlin and other cities. In motor lorries, with banners flying, the communists, supported by the republican newspaper, were trumpeting with the full power of their lungs to "banish the voters."

Red Break Up Church Services.
The reds concentrated their attack on the churches, which are known as centers of conservatism. During service the communists gathered on the church steps. Their trumpets drowned the notes of the priests, who in desperation fled the pews.

Near Halle five were wounded seriously and twenty were injured slightly when fascists motored through the town of Ammerndorf, in the days of the red uprising in central Germany. With loud brass bands and banners they tried to pass through the village, but were received with stones, shots, and machine gun fire. They retreated with revolver fire.

Germany, near Cologne, in the Rhine valley, saw the scene of similar encounters between the opposing factions.

WILL THE EUCCHARISTIC CROWD BREAK THE RECORD?

Bandits Hold Up Roadhouse, Get $10,000

Seven well dressed men, masked and armed with sawed-off shotguns and revolvers, held up the Forest inn, a roadhouse at Des Plaines avenue and Roosevelt road, Forest Park, early this morning, forced the twenty-five men and women patrons to kneel on the floor while they robbed them and the safe of $10,000 in cash and jewelry. The robbers arrived in a sedan quietly entering the place, they at once demanded for every one to kneel. Then as three stood guard, four of the bandits proceeded to relieve the victims of their cash and jewelry. The leader then emptied the safe. He knocked off the combination, forced the money drawer, and removed more than $5,000, the receipts of Saturday and Sunday.

"They then rushed to their automobile and drove rapidly south."

"Butch" Carroll, proprietor of the roadhouse, called the Forest Park police and reported the robbery. Police man Herbert Berendt commanded a flyover and took up the chase. He came in contact after about three miles and emptied the contents of two guns into the car. He said every shot hit the machine, but the robbers continued on their way and outdistanced him.

DEATH CLAIMS C. K. G. BILLINGS' SON ON YACHT

New York, June 20.—[Special.]—Albert Merritt Billings, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. G. Billings, died today on his yacht, the Tropic, lying off City Island, after an illness of a few days.

Mr. Billings, who was 31 years old, went cruising last week with his wife, who was Miss Margaret K. W. Billings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Guthrie Shaw of Brooklyn. He had not been in good health for a year, having been a sufferer from high blood pressure and a stomach ailment.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. G. Billings, who had just arrived in New York on the yacht Laurentian, were on their way to City Island when their son died.

Mr. Billings was born in Chicago on Nov. 15, 1894. He served two years in the navy during and after the world war, being mustered out as an ensign in 1919.

He was a member of the Metropolitan club, Ballou's Golf, Seagrams, Manhattan Yacht, Turf and Field, Fairmount Yacht, New York Yacht, Nassau Country, Riding, and Hamilton (Brooklyn) clubs.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday from St. Thomas chapel, 533 street and 5th avenue, New York.

Youth Stabbed to Death; Two Girls Grilled

In a quarrel over a girl, Arthur Dix, 20 years old, of 7020 South Lincoln street, was fatally stabbed yesterday by Luke Wilson, 31 years old, 7148 South Paulina street.

Mrs. Mabel Weinstein Miller, a bride of one day, and Miss Genevieve Austin, both of 1815 Prairie avenue, were questioned last night by Acting Lieut. Patrick McShane of the detective bureau.

They asserted that they had been present some two weeks ago when Dix and Wilson had harsh words about a girl. Dix criticized a young woman they all knew, according to the girls, and Wilson demanded that he retract.

One Girl Held for Inquest.
The Austin girl also said that Dix had urged Mrs. Miller, then Mabel Weinstein, not to have anything to do with Wilson. Neither of the young women was present at the stabbing at 7148 yesterday. Miss Austin was held for the inquest today.

As the witnesses told the story of the fatal quarrel, Dix was in his automobile at Lincoln and 73d streets. There he met Wilson in another car. With the latter was his brother, Walter Joseph Rose, of 1331 West 71st street, and Leonard Toth, 8330 South Marshfield avenue.

Slayer Caught by Police.
Wilson jumped out of his auto, and shouting profanely at Dix, dared him to leave the car. Dix's reply was a leap from his automobile. He struck Wilson, who drew a pocket knife and drove the blade into Dix's heart.

Wilson's companions bundled the wounded youth into their car and drove to St. Bernard's hospital, where he died a short time later. Wilson, meanwhile had fled, but the police, given his name, found him a few hours afterward cowering in an automobile in a garage at the rear of 7152 South Paulina street.

Dropped Dime Causes Riot; 4 in Hospital; 4 in Jail
A peddler dropped a dime in the Maxwell street district last night and the scramble to recover it resulted in a riot that ended with four men in the county hospital and four others in jail. Herman Brinn of 1349 Newberry avenue, suffered a severe scalp wound. Injuries of the others were not serious. The trouble started when a colored man picked up the dime and refused to give it to the owner. Three police squads quelled the disturbance.

URGES LIBERTY FOR CHURCH, HOME, SCHOOL

Taschereau Points Quebec as Guide.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Across the pageantry of color and the appeal to faith that makes the fabric of the Eucharistic congress, a new note was given yesterday in the address of L. A. Taschereau, prime minister of Quebec, at the huge French gathering in the 131st regiment armory.

Speaking as a student of politics and government, Mr. Taschereau gave his conception of how the Christian faith should be reflected in state affairs, in protection and in guidance. He set forth his liberal principles for church and school. He pointed to Quebec as the mother country of this continent, the starting place for the brave explorers and priests who first discovered the site of Chicago and made their way to the Mississippi.

He spoke of the present migration from Canada to the United States and pictured the members of the French race who have become citizens here as possessing the powers and the qualities to make a fit heaven that will lift the American nation as the leader of all civilizations.

Holds Up Quebec as Guide.

The prime minister believes that liberal Quebec holds a valuable lesson for America in more ways than one. "A large number of our people," he said, "are today citizens of the American republic. Are they, as modern missionaries, going to carry on the role of the pioneers of three centuries ago, and does that invisible hand which guides nations as it does individuals intend to confide to them a similar mission to that which their ancestors so nobly carried out?"

"How can one fail to believe and to trust this in view of the growing number of hardy Canadians who establish themselves here?"

"But to be faithful to such a mission they must arm themselves with the courage, faith, and disinterestedness of their forefathers. Thanks to their fruitful virtues, the Latin culture, the French spirit, the Christian belief, fertilized by this hospitable and generous soil, will form in the vast crucible which is the American nation a powerful alloy. We have in this touching and sublime congress some idea of what such a union can produce."

63,000 of French Blood Here.

The alloy, or heaven, that he speaks of is represented in Chicago by about 63,000 citizens of French extraction. After speaking of the obligations of the state to aid material help to spiritual consolations, Prime Minister Taschereau said:

"I cannot tell what the future may have in reserve for this great contest. It is sometimes accused of neglecting in materialism, and being often forgetful of the ideal because of the pleasures to be obtained by fabulous riches."

"It is said that its intense industrial and commercial life, its rapid forward course, obscure its view and arrest serious thought."

"Those who pass censures upon this country forget to take into account all the good that is being accomplished."

"The people who dwell here are sound and vigorous. It is a young nation, with all the exuberance of its early years. It is called to play a leading part. To that end it must, in its interior policy as well as in its relations with other nations, allow itself to be guided—and it inevitably will—by the principles of the Christian code, principles of humanity and fraternity and justice which make beside the strength and happiness of homes, the greatness and prosperity of nations."

Sees America as World Stage.

"The American people will some day perhaps be the one that, conscious of the mission reserved to it by God, and faithful to that duty, will play the role of old civilizations."

In speaking of the Christian code in its relation to statehood, he said:

"If the Christian code has proclaimed fraternity, justice and charity as essential elements of the new religion, must not one of the first consequences be the liberty of religion, liberty full and complete, free from all hindrance and permitting all of those who believe to practice and preach openly their faith?"

"Would not restriction of this liberty be a denial of the Christian code?"

POPE'S LEGATE ENTHRONED IN VIVID PAGEANT

Rome Sends Hope of Reunited Faith.

Million at Communion

Reports received at the office of the chancellor of the archdiocese of Chicago up to a late hour last night indicated that Cardinal Mundelein's promise that 1,000,000 persons would receive communion at the 6,000 masses in the 363 churches of the archdiocese yesterday had been more than fulfilled. More than half of the parishes are still to be heard from, but all those which reported yesterday had exceeded their quotas.

The Benediction of Most Blessed Sacrament was given in all the churches last evening and sermons were preached by the visiting prelates.

By James O'Donnell Bennett

Three glowing and eloquent hours of pageantry, solemnity and sermon beneath the banner and garlanded arches of the Cathedral of the Holy Name inaugurated yesterday morning the twenty-eighth International Eucharistic congress of the Catholic church.

The occasion was one of stupendous and varied splendor. It was populous with the stately personalities of a world wide hierarchy and was given an arresting new significance by the release of utterances from the pen of Pope Pius XI. and from the lips of his legate at the congress, the cardinal priest John Bonzano, that are of essential import to Christendom.

Offers Hand of Unity.
The reigning pontiff, in brief held out the hand of brotherhood and brotherhood to those whom he called "our separated brethren," saying toward the close of his mandate of Eucharistical instruction to the thronged legate who sat on the right side of the glittering and emperored sanctuary:

"These matters, beloved son, we desire you to dwell upon and emphasize when, in your official capacity as legate, you address the whole assembly. Other things also we would have you say in our words urge upon the charity of those who will gather on this occasion in Chicago. We mean the return to the Roman church of our separated brethren which must be so sought and furthered that 'all may be one.' We mean that the work of the missions is to be far more widely spread, in order that temples and altars to Christ, hidden under sacramental veils, may be multiplied in lands not yet subjected to His sweet yoke and that new adherents of the Eucharist may be added to those who now adore."

Such was the keynote of the most illustrious day in the annals of the Catholic church in America.

A Message to Non-Catholics.

That note was caught up by George Mundelein, cardinal archbishop of Chicago, and he in turn made it the keyword of the loving and solicitous homily he preached to Catholics and non-Catholics alike.

"To the multitude of earnest, honest souls outside the church," he said, "to that multitude, this congress, too, has its message."

He deprecated any intrusion of a grandiose spirit into the solemnities of worship and of instruction which the coming days hold and he said:

"Far be it from us to look upon this congress as a demonstration of our strength and numbers. Little would it avail us were it to vaunt our superiority and our own glory. Rather it is our hope that the example of our vivid attachment to the Holy Eucharist and our evident appreciation of the gift that is ours therein may encourage those earnest, honest ones to learn for themselves of this marvelous consecration on God's part to us humans."

Help for a Troubled World.

"There are so many restless and unhappy souls in the world about us. The mass of wretched, homesick, the great numbers of bleeding hearts, the growing disrespect for law and order all point out to

America Loses Wallop as He Becomes Earl

New York, June 20.—[AP.]—Oliver Henry Wallop, in the United States a ranch owner of Sheridan, Wyo., in England the eighth earl of Portsmouth, returned today on the Belgenland from England and announced that he had sworn his resolution of remaining an American citizen.

Still Lover of the West.

Although proud of his adopted country and still a lover of the west, Mr. Wallop said he felt he owed it to his family and himself to take the title which fell to him with the death of his elder brother in September, 1925. At that time he said he would forego the title rather than place his citizenship in jeopardy.

He has already taken steps to resume his English citizenship, he said today, and will be accepted into the house of lords, after he has completed a five year residence in England.

Came to U. S. in 1883.
Mr. Wallop came to this country in 1883, settling on a 2,000 acre ranch near Sheridan. He applied for citizenship in 1885 and was naturalized in 1904. He served in the Wyoming legislature from 1903 to 1913.

Accompanying him on the Belgenland was his wife. They were met by a son, Oliver Jr. They will spend several months in Wyoming before returning to England.

us that there is something wanting in the life of our people today. "May it not be that the banishment of the supernatural, the gradually vanishing figure of the real Christ, the God-man, the divine teacher, the law-giver, the just judge of the universe, the removal from the school, the fire-side and the hearts of men, is the underlying cause? Here in the Eucharist He stands forth, not as a myth, not as a hero in a fairy-tale, not as a great figure that exists only in history, but as a definite, positive, living figure, really existing now, even as you and I."

An Apostrophe and a Prayer.
The cardinal archbishop of Chicago closed with rapturous apostrophe to the Eucharist, and with a prayer that in the hour "when death shall lift for us the white shroud of the Eucharist," all its mystery may be made clear and its beneficence made perfect, and on these words the homiletic eloquence and fervor of the day culminated.

...this bread that is come down from heaven becomes the protection of tender childhood, the safeguarding of youth, the strength of womanhood, the purifying force in manhood, the inspiration of priesthood, the consolation of the aged, our nourishment in life, our comfort in death, our reward in eternity. And for us who are of the white shroud of the Eucharist, to whom God has given the priceless gift of being numbered among His children, who have so often been comforted and strengthened by His sacramental presence, our fervent prayers for ourselves and those dear to us, that when death lifts for us the white shroud of the Eucharist, we may continue to praise and worship face to face for all eternity the same God whom on earth we adored in the sacrament of the altar, "adoremus in aeternum sacramentum sacramentum"—O sacrament that we adore, make us love thee forevermore. Amen! Amen!"

2,000 Breathe Their Assent.
"Amen! Amen," softly breathed by priests and prelates and teaching brothers and cowled friars, briefly filled the church. Affirmation of the cardinal's prayer spoke with 2,000 tongues.

Mainly sweetness informed and Christian courtesy ennobled the messages imparted to this city by the Roman pontiff, by his legate, and by the resident prelate.

In the third line of his mandate—read first in Latin and then in English from the marble pulpit by the Very Reverend Monsignor Dennis J. Dunne, D. D., pastor of Holy Cross church, Chicago—Plux XI, acclaimed Chicago as "well known for its grandeur and prosperity, conspicuous also for the number and seal of its catholics."

To his legate, whom Cardinal Mundelein described as "a trusted counselor from the very side of the holy father's throne," the pope extended felicitations upon his return to our country and our city.

"In going thither," he said, "you return, as it were, a citizen to your fellow citizens—to those who, during your long sojourn as apostolic delegate among them, had the advantage of your presence and guidance and were edified by the manifold proofs of your piety."

The mandate closed with these regal words:

"Given at St. Peter's, Rome, this eighteenth day of May in the year of Our Lord 1926, and the fifth of our pontificate."

Admonishes Catholic Churchmen.
The mandate contained but one stern utterance and that was flung by the pontiff at those within the ranks of his own communion who are routine and perfunctory churchmen.

"Spineless sort of Christians," he called them.

The words were withering.

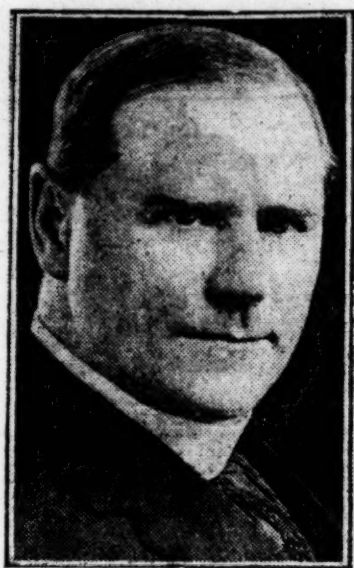

"Those," he wrote, "who, albeit they are, perhaps, habitual partakers of the heavenly repast, yet neglect their interior life, or dread the thought of it—what is to be said of them?"

"Only that they are a spineless sort of Christians, unfit to strive for the holiest of causes."

Why cumber they the ground? demanded the head of the church, and hammered his thought home thus:

"Are they any addition to the host of the blessed and saints in heaven in whom the church glories? Do they not delude themselves, forgetful as they are of their own spiritual welfare and careless of their own perfection, in thinking that they can be

NOTES OF THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

The Very Rev. Thomas F. Levan, C.M., pastor of St. Vincent's, who provided outside services for the crowds unable to hear Cardinal Du Bois officiate at his church.

Chief of Detectives Schoemaker, Deputy Chief Stege, Capt. John Prendergast, secretary to Chief Collins, and Capt. Daniel Murphy of the Chicago avenue station, who were in charge of the traffic in the vicinity of Cathedral square yesterday morning, estimated the size of the crowd at 50,000.

Every available seat has been reserved for the dinner to be given to-night by the Knights of St. Gregory and the laity of the archdiocese for distinguished visitors. The ballroom, the outer hall and the balcony of the Blackstone will be filled, and the applications of 200 additional persons had to be returned.

While still many miles from Chicago, and traveling toward the city as fast as their special train could carry them, one large party of pilgrims from the prairie provinces of Canada yesterday morning listened to the music, the choral portions and the chants of the high mass at Holy Name cathedral. Crowded into the radio equipped observation car, they heard plainly the addresses of Cardinals Bonzano and Mundelein, and the reading the papal bull.

One hundred policemen from the Chicago avenue station had practically nothing to do during the services at the cathedral yesterday, so orderly were the crowds, according to Capt. John Prendergast.

Not a single accident due to congestion in the streets surrounding the cathedral was reported yesterday.

Catholic clubwomen who speak foreign languages are in charge of information booths for congress visitors in the west and northwest sides of the city, at the Wieboldt stores, at Lincoln avenue and Belmont, Milwaukee avenue near Paulina, and Ashland boulevard and Monroe street.

Cardinal Reig y Casanova of Spain assisted the holy hour services last night at St. Vincent's church, Sheffield and Webster avenues.

of any real service to the Catholic cause, or promote the spiritual welfare and eternal salvation of their fellow men?"

Theodore Roosevelt never spoke more bluntly on pretenses. The marble pulpit nodded, reluctantly.

Dunne rolled forth the sovereign's words.

Like his spiritual chieftain in Rome, and like his host in Chicago, legate Bonzano spoke more as a world citizen speaking to a city than as an ecclesiastic speaking to a congregation. In his precisely worded and cleanly uttered English, with its emphatic consonants and its beautifully rounded vowels, he dwelt fondly upon "the opportunity to revive the memory of happy years" which the pope has given him in sending him as "our legate a latere" [from our side], as the mandate phrased it.

Legate Greets Chicago.
In soft and melodious tones, more ingratiating than commanding, the supreme figure of the solemnities and the felicitations gave greeting to Chicago, saying:

"Here religion, side by side with labor and culture, flourishes and spreads its benefactions—caring for those who are in need, providing for every form of suffering and sorrow, lifting the weak and guiding the strong, in the way of Christ, the eternal way of His salvation."

He called Chicago typical.

"Typical," he said, "of America's energy and progress—a city so cosmopolitan, a city which gathers the richest products of nature and toil to distribute them through the whole world."

"Typical," he said, "not alone of American enterprise, but also of the aspiration for the higher life which makes industry the servant of the spirit and turns material gains to finer uses, even as the intellect of man transmutates the facts of sense to give them meaning and ideal value."

"Fitting it is that our hymn of thanksgiving should rise to heaven from this city of Chicago!"

Makes Missionary Plea.
Having made his greetings, at once cordial and so pious, the legate plunged into the theme that dominated the papal mandate, or "brief," which the head of the ancient church had entrusted to him—the theme of Christian unity.

He quoted the words of Jesus—

Although pilgrims from all over the world continued to register yesterday, most of them still were to be had at all the main loop hotels. One delegation of 250 from Mexico took rooms at the Sherman. Another delegation from New Jersey numbering more than 100 entered the same hotel. A party of 325 arrived at the Morrison from Washington, D. C.

Out in the forest preserves at the end of the Milwaukee avenue car line are camped eleven Yankton Sioux Indian boys and girls with Fathers Joseph Speyer and Sylvester Eisenman. They came here to attend the congress from a little mission school at Marty, S. D. They drove 730 miles in a small truck, camping along the way. The trip was made in three days and two nights.

Archbishop Edward Howard of Oregon City, Ore., will arrive at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon at the La Salle street station. He will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, 839 North Fair Oaks avenue, Oak Park.

De Paul university alumni and a union of eleven Yankton Sioux Indian boys and girls with Fathers Joseph Speyer and Sylvester Eisenman. They came here to attend the congress from a little mission school at Marty, S. D. They drove 730 miles in a small truck, camping along the way. The trip was made in three days and two nights.

Since Michigan avenue will be the main thoroughfare for pilgrims going to and from Soldiers' field, the People's Gas Light and Coke company has converted its main floor office at Michigan avenue and Adams street into a public rest room. Men and women users will be on hand, and free drinking water, writing desk accommodations, free guide books to Chicago and comfort stations will be provided. Railroad tickets to Mundelein also will be on sale there.

A band of Sioux Indians, who will participate in the Knights of Columbus pageantry during the congress, arrived yesterday from South Dakota and will camp at the K. of C. tent in Grant park opposite Van Buren street.

Other sheep I have that are not of this fold; then also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice, and there shall be one fold and one shepherd."

"Those sheep, those souls, that belong to Christ through their belief in Him, their eagerness to hear His voice and to do His will, their cleanness of heart and their charity abounding in many good works—these, too, must be brought together in His church and nourished by the sacraments of life, so in reality and not in name only there may be 'one Lord, one faith, and one baptism.' Then shall the reproach of division be taken away from the Christian name, and from those who glory in it, the evil of discord, then also, with single purpose and mutual support inspiring its members, shall the church of Christ, under the standard of the cross, go forth to universal conquest and the spreading of His kingdom to the uttermost parts of the earth."

Again the murmur "Amen! Amen!"

A Colorful Pageant
Such was the message of a day that.

Wave upon wave of color, wave upon wave of sound, beat upon the scene and engulfed it. The music of masses and of choirs on the four sides of the cathedral church and the cathedral schools blended with the psalms that shook the stone edifice from within.

The sunlit streets pour color and masses of vested men and boys into the church.

Slowly up the nave come four hundred acolytes in white and purple and red and purple. They pass through the empty sanctuary and vanish through portals opening into the residential and administrative parts of the edifice. They are seen no more.

Venerable Priests Enter.
Hardly have they been lost to view when, at a flourish of trumpets, the more venerable priests of this and other dioceses fill the far perspective of the center aisle where it meets the sunlit street. They wear black cassocks. Their care lined, patient faces, their simple garb, their bent shoulders—ah, what a tale of faithful years in the sequestered places of service they tell! But this day they tenderly are honored and trumpets herald them.

Now Dominicans in white cowls with black capes, and Benedictines all in black, and Franciscans—poor men by their vows, but rich in their possession of the name and fame of that kind saint who so loved the birds and the flowers—in their austere habits of brown girdled with rope. Play lustily, O trumpets, for them!

Now bearded Capuchins—bearded always—and Carmelites in black and white, and Trappists and Carthusians.

Franciscan Friars Smile.
How these Franciscan friars smile when their eyes fall upon the statue of St. Anthony of Padua on the south wall of the transept! For Anthony—next to their own Francis—is the saint dearest to them.

On, on in they come—the ministering Christian Brothers, learned Jesuits in black, Passionists, Paulists, that order of converts; Redemptorists, Brothers of Mary.

Monks and friars and doctors—every moment of their passing is a page in the annals of social service, of education, and of sacrifice!

Amazing order attends the distribution of the figures in this enormous tableau. A quick, subdued wave of command and the lines separate and end in the place days since appointed.

Cathedral Bell Booms.
The great bell of the cathedral is booming. The strains of Sir Edward Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" mount to the booming of the bell.

Now the pastoral clergy from many dioceses are moving up the aisle. Eight hundred priests have found their places.

Now 500 Monsignori—the church's best buffers and mediators between it and a clamorous world.

Endless gradations of rank and station enlarge the scene—here seventeen mitred abbots, four superiors general, three apostolic prefects, three apostolic delegates.

And the climes and the countries! Bishop Haber said:

From Greenland's icy mountains
To India's coral strand,
Hark now!

From the choir loft descends that royal proclamation in song "Ecce sacerdos magnus!" (Behold the great priest!)

It means that the prelates have come into view—277 bishops and 57 archbishops.

Never in the history of the western world has it had such a concourse of the hierarchy.

Each bishop and archbishop is attended by two chaplains. The transept—empty until now—glows with the purple of their lordships. The chaplains in white withdraw to the edges of the transept as the prelates sink into their seats. Thus is that purple garden of learning and of piety suddenly fringed with a border of white. The effect is entrancing.

The bishop of Malta, key Isle of the Mediterranean, is attended by two Knights of Malta in white cloaks and white garrison caps. The bishop of Honduras follows. A Chinese Knight of St. Gregory is blandly surveying the scene. The statue of long gone saints to which he lifts his eyes are not more perfect images of imperturbability than he.

What geography! What chronology! It is a march past of 19 centuries; a winding into this church of the world's circumference; a resounding roll call of kingdoms and principalities and commonwealths while the great bell booms. With soft steps and slow they glide by.

THE CARDINALS ENTER
Again the trumpets, and now come the cardinals—Italy, America, Hungary, Austria, France, Germany, Spain, Ireland—the good man from Armagh, successor to St. Patrick and amid soft breezes of piety, coming long of all because he, of all the cardinals on this scene, last was elevated to the cardinalate.

The cardinals are preceded by special acolytes in red, and the cardinal legate is attended by a special retinue of chaplains, of monsignori and of Knights and Knights Commander of St. Gregory the Great in court dress with sword.

Flaming Wall of Cardinals.
Seipel, Austria's prelate chancellor, takes his seat beside the legate's throne. A flaming wall of ten cardinals rises opposite them on the south side of the sanctuary.

To Belgium is accorded the honor of the choice of one of its prelates as celebrant of the pontifical solemn high mass which now follows and which marks the formal inauguration of this congress as well as the reception and installation of the pontiff's representative—Bishop Thomas Heylein, in other words, from the high fortress city of Namur that has commanded the battleground of Europe since Caesar's time, pontificate.

The "color of the mass" for this day is white, but because gold is a substitute in the liturgical scheme of colors for any color except purple and black, they vest the soft-voiced Heylein in gold.

An Episode of Church History.
The long and intensely ceremonial exchange of greeting and felicitation which now begins, the reading in Latin and in English of the papal brief, the sermon of welcome by Cardinal Mundelein, the sermon of response by the legate, the giving of the papal benediction and the proclaiming of indulgence, the solemn and heart searching bestowal of the kiss of peace, the clashing of mass bells, the awful moments of silence which marked the culmination of the supreme sacrifice, the clouds of incense, the descent of the Gregorian strains beloved of Mozart, who declared that passage the most beautiful music ever written—these are the wonders and these the memories of those of us who kindled were bidden to this historic episode in the annals of the mother church of Christendom.

Crowds Await Dispersal.
The end and the dispersal were worthy of it all and to me they were the part not least endearing. Into the sunlit streets and beneath the bright June sky they came—these devotees and dignitaries—and there they were met and cheered by their fellow communicants who for hours had followed by means of amplifiers all that had been said and all that had been sung within the church. Through ranks upon ranks of their people, prelates and clergy passed, banners going before and blessings following them. Each cardinal, each archbishop, attended by a great train of nobles and clerics, went his way from the unforgettable morning. Past happy faces and amid soft breezes the holy men went, and the rapture of the day and of its deed spoke to them in echoes of a poet, voiceless now these five and thirty years, but speaking still.

"Thy heaven alone that is given away,
Thy only God may be had for the asking."

No price is set on the lavish summer; June may be had by the poorest; come. And what is so rare as a day in June? Then, if ever, come perfect days. Then heaven tries earth if it be in tune, And over it softly her warm ear lays.

TODAY IS THE PUBLIC'S DAY AT CONGRESS

145,000 to Attend Mass at Soldiers' Field.

BY DANIEL SULLIVAN.

This is the public's day at the eucharistic congress. Today all the ceremonies and the congress have been held in places so comparatively small that only a few thousands of the laity could see what was going on. As a result, a great many of the cardinals as they passed through the streets on Tuesday had to be escorted by the great gathering and the hundreds of thousands of Chicago Catholics.

It's Different Today.

It will be different today. The first general meeting of the congress will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Soldiers' field. This great amphitheater has been arranged so that it will accommodate 145,000 persons. Of these 145,000 will be the children of the church, the school children who will sing the responses to the solemn pontifical high mass which will be chanted by the papal legate, Cardinal Bonzano. About 100 other seats will be reserved for prelates and clergymen. This will leave 144,000 for the general public and it will be a case of first come first served.

It is expected that long before the hour set for the opening of the meeting the bridges and roads into Grant park will be black with crowds on their way to Soldiers' field. Autos, except those carrying distinguished guests of the congress, will not be permitted in Grant park, but buses will run from the Twenty-third street and the Monroe street bridges to the Soldiers' field.

Many Decorations.

This has been especially arranged for the meeting and the out of town guests. Between the permanent stands and the Field museum a court of honor, bounded by a double peristyle, has been constructed, the pylons being decorated with the American and papal flags and festoons of electric lights. The flags of the various nations being represented are to be hung from the eaves of the pylons. Just south of this court of honor has been erected a domed pavilion under which has been constructed a temporary altar.

All this altar which is visible from every seat in the stands and from the air as the Twenty-third street viaduct, the papal legate will celebrate mass. To one side of the altar, between it and the permanent stands, have been erected thrones for the other cardinals who are expected to be present, while a purple carpeted space has been reserved for the bishops and archbishops and the 400 missionaries who are here for the congress. At the southern end of the permanent stands temporary stands have been built on the horseshoe shaped foundations for the permanent stands which are to be completed by this fall.

Thousands Visit Stadium.

Above these stands have been strung the banners of all nations. From the permanent stands the permanent stands are hung American flags, the papal banners and those of the Eucharistic congress, similar in design, but somewhat larger than those which draped the Holy Name cathedral yesterday. Although there were no ceremonies at Soldiers' field yesterday, tens of thousands visited it, just to see the decorations and view the arrangements for today's mass and meeting. There was a constant stream of pedestrians across all the bridges leading to Grant park and the auto driveways on the bridges at Monroe, Eighth, Eleventh, and Twenty-third streets were jammed to capacity nearly all day. City and county park officials who are to handle today's crowds were watching yesterday's throngs, and expressed the opinion that more than 200,000 persons had crossed the bridges during the day.

ROOMMATE KILLS MEXICAN.

In a fight following an argument over cooking breakfast, John Geza, 32 years old, 4318 Monroe street, a Mexican, was killed early yesterday by his roommate, Fred Garcia, also a Mexican. He stabbed him to death.

SAVED FROM DEATH

Bishop Jose Gutierrez and Archbishop Orozco, both of Mexico, here for the Eucharistic congress. The archbishop recently was a prisoner in Mexico City, where, it is said, the intervention of the Japanese ambassador saved him from execution. The Mexican government is making an anti-clerical campaign.

day without much trouble. Of course, today an equal or larger number will have to be handled within a few hours, so their problem has still to be solved. The crowds of sightseers did not all concentrate in Grant park. The decorations along Michigan avenue and those on State street were attractions for other thousands. Both streets were lined with crowds all day and traffic policemen were kept busy as on week days.

Crowds Everywhere.

Railroad stations and country roads were also crowded, but in spite of the evidences of throngs having arrived in the city for the congress the downtown and outlying hotels were complaining that rooms that they had reserved for the expected pilgrims were not being used. The answer of the Eucharistic congress officials is that special efforts were made to accommodate visitors in private homes, and most of the pilgrims availed themselves of the offer of rooms in outlying parts of the city. They are certain that at least 500,000 visitors are in the city, although the railroad and the hotel managers are dubious about the correctness of their figures.

All this has to do with the spectacular side of today's program. But in addition to having plenty to see those who get to Soldiers' field will have plenty to hear.

There are four addresses on the morning's program and two of them will be delivered by cardinals. The cardinals who will talk are von Faulhaber of Germany and Dubois of France. Archbishop Mannix of Melbourne, Australia, another speaker is an international celebrity and former U. S. Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts. He is well known throughout the country. Archbishop Curley of Baltimore will preach the sermon at the morning mass. Amplifiers have been placed throughout Soldier's field and it is predicted that everyone in the stands will hear every word that will be said.

ROOMMATE KILLS MEXICAN.

CATHOLICS OF MANY NATIONS HOLD MEETINGS

Chicagoans Join with Foreign Pilgrims.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Correspondent of The Tribune.)

The sectional meetings of the twenty-eight International Eucharistic congress, which were opened in various parts of Chicago yesterday afternoon, gave the congress an intimate touch lacking perhaps in the big ceremonial events of the morning.

A spirit of neighborliness, good fellowship, and friendly co-operation was particularly good, overflows meetings outside the auditoriums in which thousands of Chicagoans of foreign birth or extraction met priests and prelates from the lands of their birth or origin.

Many Meet Cardinals.

The laity had its first opportunity since the arrival of the visiting cardinals to establish personal contact with them. The attendance at the German, French, Italian, Polish, and Bohemian meetings was particularly good, overflow meetings outside the auditoriums being necessary in several cases.

The princes of the church were the first to catch the spirit of the gathering. Cardinal Pitt, his retinue and features wreathed in smiles, was the perfect picture of fatherly comradeship. Cardinal Dubois of Paris was delighted with the reception accorded him.

Visiting cardinals distributed themselves among the sectional meetings. Cardinal Bonzano, the papal legate, was particularly busy attending four group meetings—French in the 131st Infantry armory, the Italians at the Municipal pier, the Polish in the 132d Infantry armory, and the Germans at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium.

Most of the other cardinals contented themselves with visiting the group representing the nation in which their see was located.

The German Meeting.

The church is the one hope of war torn world for peace, Mons. Seipel, Austria's prelate-chancellor told the German speaking Catholics at their sectional meeting. The legate of nations, the world court, or other agencies, are at the best but makeshifts. The church, and the church alone, can lead the way to universal peace.

"I am not one of those who believe that peace will come to the world through repetition of the mere word. Peace is not brought by talking. Peace comes, not through delimitation of frontiers in some manner or another, even though it be through the agencies of a super government called the league of nations or the world court. There is hope only when peace enters the soul of man."

Can't Fix Gull.

Thus the chancellor summed up the state of the world today. Speaking of the war gulf, the chancellor declared it could not be fixed on one nation or another. "The real root of war is found in the peaceless hearts of men who love not peace. The church labors to bring peace to the hearts of humanity, of individuals, families and nations."

"It cannot be that all those deaths and murders of a war-mad world were without a sense or purpose. God could not permit such a holocaust without a purpose, and it could only have been

Pope Pius XI. at the beginning of his pontificate refused to receive women who wore décolleté gowns with bare arms. Now he is demanding that the pilgrims not only conform to the original prohibitions, but also severely censors short dresses.

The consistory tomorrow will create two cardinals, Mons. Charles Perri, assessor of the congregation of the holy office, and Bishop Aloysius Capotosti, secretary of the congregation of the sacraments, and will confirm the election to Antioch Patriarch of the Greek Melchite Moghabed, who takes the name of Cyril VIX.

PROTESTANT PASTORS PRAISE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS IN PULPITS

Comments in praise of the Eucharistic congress were made in many Protestant pulpits here yesterday.

The Rev. Edwin J. Randall, executive secretary of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, said: "The Eucharistic congress is a great religious spectacle in which religion comes to the forefront. Christ is being exalted in Chicago as on no other great occasion. Even though there are occasional points of view the congress is an inspiring evidence of the continuity of the Christ from the first century."

Dr. Grover C. Whimsitt, pastor of South Chicago Presbyterian church, said: "In the congress it is gratifying to recognize the material note has not been sounded but only the spiritual and the moral."

Dr. John Thompson, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago temple, said: "While Catholics and Protestants differ, they both bear witness to the same event of the sacrificial death of Christ and His atonement on the cross. The eucharist is a solemn sacrament which shows forth the Lord's death until He comes again. It is a silent preaching of the cross. I would be glad to have any priests who would be willing to occupy the pulpit with me."

permitted that we who suffered might know peace cannot be established among men unless it is sought with God."

The chancellor was preceded by Prof. Dr. Mons. Karl Hilgenreiner, German senator in the Czechoslovakian parliament, who told his hearers of persecutions of Catholics in this country, and further endangers von Faulhaber spoke on "The Eucharist and His Family." His remarks were confined to purely religious subjects.

More than 7,000 persons crowded into the Ashland Boulevard auditorium, filling aisles and disregarding all police and fire regulation. Thousands of persons waited to enter and an overflow meeting was held on the main floor of the building.

HUNGARY

A million Hungarians went to communion yesterday in celebration of the opening of the twenty-eighth Eucharistic congress here. Cardinal Cernoch of Budapest, primate of Hungary, told 1,000 of his countrymen whom he addressed in their native tongue in St. Lawrence hall, 73d street and Dorchester avenue.

"On leaving Budapest," the cardinal said, "I carried with me a document signed by a million of my countrymen, pledging themselves to go to communion today. I presented this document to Cardinal Mundelein on my arrival here, and it pleased him highly."

Cardinal Cernoch was introduced by the Rt. Rev. Mons. Charles Boehm of Cleveland, one of the great Hungarian priests in this country. Other speakers were the Rt. Rev. Stephen Hauer, bishop of Vesz, Hungary; the Rt. Rev. Mons. Bela Turi of Budapest, and Alex Desewffy, Hungarian editor.

The Bohemian speaking Catholics gathered for their sectional meeting at two o'clock in the auditorium of the Carter Harrison high school. The Rt. Rev. Karl Kaspar, bishop of Hradec Kralove, Czechoslovakia, presided. Addresses were made by him and by Mons. Louis John Klein of Lincoln, Neb., the Rev. Innocent Ksasti of Chicago and Abbot Metod Zavoral of Czech, and by Rev. Aloysius Ziskovsky of St. Paul in English.

BELOHOLLAND

The Belgian-Holland section extended an official welcome to the Rt. Rev. Thomas Louis Heylen, bishop of Namur, Belgium, and president of the permanent committee of the international congress, and to the Most Rev.

Henry Van de Watering, archbishop of Utrecht, Holland, at St. John Berchman's church, 2917 Logan boulevard. Nearly 1,000 persons of Belgian and Holland birth received the blessings of the prelates of their native lands.

The visiting churches were welcomed by Dr. Cyril J. Vermetten, Belgian consul, and John Venneman, Holland consul. Mons. Victor Day, Belgian, Mont., was the principal speaker.

Another meeting of the Belgian-Holland section will be held this evening at St. John Berchman's church, 1408 Ed Brooke avenue. The Most Rev. Van de Watering will preside.

PORTUGUESE

The Portuguese delegation calls to the attention of all visitors interested in its sectional meetings that this division, contrary to the early arrangements, will not meet with the Spanish group, but will hold its own meetings today, tomorrow, and Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the suite of the Most Rev. Manuel de Mattos, archbishop of Braga, in Portugal, room 367 Drake hotel.

FRENCH

America was praised for her religious toleration and censured for certain sins of her material prosperity at the French section meeting in the 131st Regiment armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue.

"The American flag, with its firm stars, is an inspiration of heaven itself," said Cardinal Charost, archbishop of Rennes, "but it represents a nation engrossed in pleasures and somewhat forgetful of spiritual values."

Divorce was cited as chief among the sins of our material prosperity, aided and abetted by the press, which said "The large portion of the family life and further endangers virtue. Moving pictures and dancing were also cited as potential dangers. The speakers included, besides Cardinal Charost, Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Paris; Prime Minister L. A. Tuschereau of Quebec, and Eugene Jalbert, Woonsocket, R. I., and Bishop Heylen, permanent president of the congresses.

NEGRO

Negro Catholics of Chicago and various parts of the United States and Canada attended an overflow meeting at St. Elizabeth's hall, 41st street and Wabash avenue, to hear an address by the Rt. Rev. R. Gorow, D. D., bishop of Natchez, Miss. The southern prelate spoke mainly of his work among the colored people, pointing out that his first assignment after ordination was to St. Joseph's church in Pensacola, Fla., where the congregation of which, he said, was entirely colored.

Father Joseph Eckert, pastor of St. Elizabeth's church, said the invocation. Aid, Maj. Robert R. Jackson extended a speech of welcome. Father Joseph Glenn, S. J., Attorney Patrick O'Donnell, Jesse Binga, and Father Norman Duckette of Detroit, Mich. were other speakers. Seven colored nuns attended the meeting, which was presided over by Father Stephen Theobald, a colored priest of St. Paul, Minn.

SPANISH

Spain, pictured as the mother country fostering the happiness and welfare of her 19 daughter countries, all united by the one language and the one love for the one Christ, made her first individual contribution to the Eucharistic congress when for three fervent hours the Spanish speaking delegation, headed by Cardinal Casanova, held a meeting at St. Francis' church, Roosevelt road and Newberry avenue.

"Spain," said the venerable cardinal, with many a wild bravo of interruption from the congregation, "and America ought to be especially intimate. For it was a Spaniard who discovered America."

"But I come," with a smile, "unlike Columbus, on a voyage not of discovery and aggrandizement but of friendship and fellowship."

When the ecclesiastic, growing solemn, referred to present difficulties among some of the groups, and urged a faith in Christ, more than half of the people packed into the pews and standing up and down the aisles began to cry.

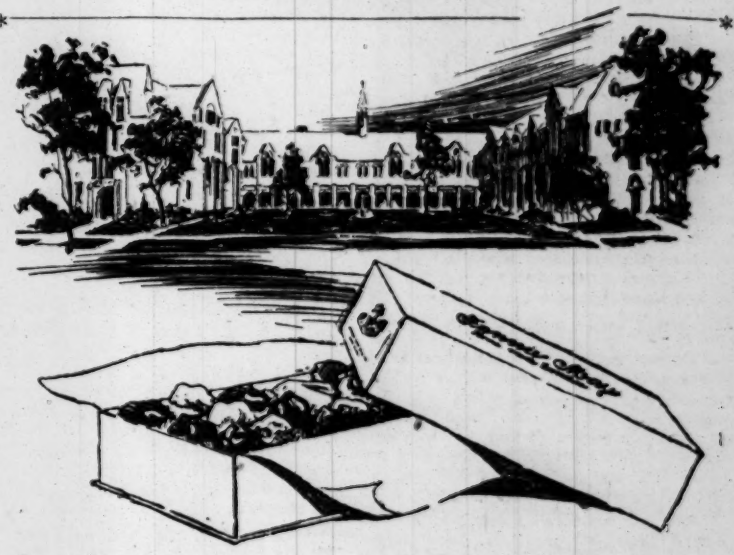

The only note reflecting a bit of present disturbance was the comment of the Rev. Cuevas of Mexico City, an author of note in the Spanish tongue, when he declared: "Christ is the only hope for Mexico."

Other speakers included Bishop Puyo of Panto, Colombia; the Rev. Castor Ordonez of De Paul university, the Rev. Domingo Zaldivar, the Rt. Rev. Francisco Orozco y Jumea, and Dr. Alberto Benavides, consul of Colombia.

FRENCH CANADIAN PILGRIMS HONOR PERE MARQUETTE

Hang Wreath on a Dingy Cross by River.

Where a black cross arose, a dark river flowed, and a black garbed bishop prayed a benediction, 1,200 French-Canadian pilgrims knelt in the Sabbath sunshine yesterday morning around the spot at Robey street and the Chicago river where Louis Joliet and Pere Jacques Marquette, the first white men to paddle along the Chicago river, landed in September, 1673.

Bishop Prud'homme of St. Albert and Saskatchewan, Alberta, Canada, speaking in the French tongue, repeated the historic story of France's missionaries who, 254 years ago, kept alive by their great faith and indomitable courage, braved a winter among the Indians after discovering the site of a future great city.

First Mass Said in French. "France is proud that the first mass pronounced in the new country here was said by a French priest," Bishop Prud'homme explained. "She is proud of the discoveries of her priests who opened a new country for God and for peace. Their journey is an epic of history and human endurance."

There were present a delegation from Acadia and the coasts of Nova Scotia and groups from Quebec, from Montreal, from Louisiana and New England. They came by motor bus, by automobile, and on foot, making their pilgrimage through the lumberyards that line the river banks.

Place Wreath on Cross. As a wreath was placed upon the high wooden cross, Archbishop Oliver Mathieu from Regina, Saskatchewan, dedicated the spot to the memory of Marquette and Joliet. And as the priest stepped down from the stone steps leading to the cross, some one commenced to sing the Canadian national anthem which immediately swelled into a chorus.

Presiding at the services was Ferdinand Lavigne, 724 South Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park, chairman of the reception committee for the French delegation, who represented the French-Canadian patriotic organizations of Illinois.

O'CONNELL, LAST OF VISITING CARDINALS, REACHES CITY BY BOAT

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK

Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, the eleventh and last of the visiting princes of the church to arrive in Chicago for participation in the twenty-eighth Eucharistic congress, sailed down the Chicago river yesterday afternoon on the forward deck of the steamship South America, on which he, three monsignors, twenty-five priests, and 450 laymen, on a pilgrimage from Boston, had made the trip from Buffalo.

Mayor William E. Dever was the first to greet the cardinal.

The mayor's greeting was primarily that of one townsman to another. For the mayor was born in Woburn, some fifteen miles out of Boston, and grew up in the larger city.

"Your eminence," said Mayor Dever, as he walked up the gangplank and met Cardinal O'Connell. "It is as an individual, as a townsman of yours, that I wish to greet you. 'Good morning, I have some little influence about, and you may be assured that we will do what we can to make you comfortable. I am a Chicagoan. I hope to be in Chicago many, many years. But'—with a laugh that was caught up by the crowd—"I may perhaps die in Boston."

Then everybody grew still as Cardinal O'Connell said to Chicago's chief executive:

"We have deep sentiments of genuine gratitude for your courtesy in coming to greet the people of Boston and me. We are proud to find in this giant city of the west such an efficient, capable, honest and honorable chief executive, one whose fame has gone all over the country. We are proud, for we are happy to know that the beginnings of the formation of this character, took place in our own archdiocese."

"We pray that men like Mayor Dever, capable, strong, conscientious men, will always answer fearlessly to the call of the nation's welfare."

Later, in his suite on board the boat where he purposes to reside during his Chicago sojourn, the cardinal spoke of Chicago and Boston.

"It is Boston capital, you will recollect, which rebuilt Chicago after the fire. So there is an especially deep bond between the two cities."

"This congress," he added, "is not political, absolutely not; it is not commercial; it is not financial."

The pilgrimage, which is under the direction of Thomas Cook company, yesterday celebrated fourteen masses at the several altars on the boat. Every member of the delegation attended the cardinal's holy communion service.

LIBERTY! IN HOME, SCHOOL, CHURCH, PREMIER PLEADS

Taschereau Points Quebec as Lesson for U. S.

city refuse to the masses access to the religion which enlightens, directs and so often consoles them by pointing out that to this life where inequalities prevail there succeeds another where all are equal? Is not any infringement of this liberty depriving religion of its powers and preventing it from fulfilling the duty to which so many human beings are indebted for following in the right course, for acquiring the knowledge of God and cherishing the hope of a better and more equitable life?

Plea for Complete Liberty.

"Religious liberty also involves liberty in those two sanctuaries where morals are born, developed and arrive at maturity—the family and the school. Liberty in the family can only be realized by the inviolability of marriage and by the absolute recognition by the state of the sacred right of the father of a family to direct the education of his children."

"If we substitute for this right a right such as the state sometimes assumes to itself to violate the home and take amongst the children that place which none but the father and the mother can fill, what is there that remains? The whole family life disappears."

"Liberty of the school! Doubtless it is incumbent upon the state to provide for the instruction of youth. But I deny its right to violate consciences, to drive God out of the Christian school, and to refuse parents the privilege of giving their children, at an age when intelligence is opening and the convictions are formed, that moral instruction which they have themselves received, which has guided them in life and forms part of the heritage that they wish to leave to their descendants."

Parish Sanctuary in Quebec.

"There is another sanctuary which might save other countries, since it is to it that the province of Quebec owes its survival. It is the parish."

"When all seemed lost our people gathered in the shadow of the church tower. There they piously and valiantly preserved their ancestral tongue, their faith, and traditions."

"Many distinguished Frenchmen have crossed the seas to assist at this congress. I invite them as they return to stop in the province of Quebec. They will see the Canadian parish, the guardian of all that is dear to us. There they will feel the palpitation of the French soul and obtain the ancient faith. They will read in the countenances of our peasants the happiness of their homes, sometimes, perhaps, the traces of hard toil, but ever of confidence and contentment.

"Let our visitors penetrate still further, they will hear everywhere our language—their own, our songs—their songs, and above all, they will find a people healthy, good, and religious, who will perpetuate in New France the love of the old mother country, its faith, its traditions, and its hopes."

Tells Congress Significance. Speaking from the religious point of view of the significance of this congress, he said:

"It is more than three centuries ago since the bold explorers, guided by the mysterious hand of Providence, left old Europe and, animated by their faith and patriotism, planted in America the cross of Christ and the standard of France. It must surely have been given them to gaze into the future, for how otherwise can we explain their toll and sufferings save that to uphold their dauntless courage they had a deep conviction that one day—foreseen in an ecstatic vision—this vast continent would be peopled with a world of Christians who would bow down on the shores of the great lakes, discovered by Joliet and Marquette, in homage to the faith which inspired them, the faith which has survived them more than 300 years, and which will live as long as the great people to whom it has given birth."

Harvest of Ten Generations.

"Ten generations have passed since those far off days. The little evangelizing group of the dawn of the seventeenth century covers today the whole continent with its three millions of descendants. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Hudson's bay to Florida and Louisiana, the old tongue of the discoverers has been perpetuated, the familiar Norman and Breton songs still soothe the infants on their mother's knees, and Quebec, the mother province, faithful to its belief, its traditions, and its language, comes today to garner with you the marvelous harvest that the furrows traced by our ancestors in the vast forests of Illinois have sown and ripened."

"I am but an humble acolyte of the old country—Quebec can well lay its claim to this title, since it is the cradle of civilization on this continent—and I am very proud to have the honor of representing my province on such a solemn occasion."

Come as Modern Pilgrims. "Your festival would indeed be incomplete without the participation of French-Canadians. Pilgrims of the modern times, we have come, traveling enormous distances in a few short hours to view this immense and rich country that our ancestors discovered after so long and tedious a journey."

"Becoming acquainted with your social organization and the fervent aspirations of this generation, we recognize that it has not been in vain that this land has been devoted to the faith and civilization. May we not hope that from the realm of shadows where they now dwell those heroes of former days can see this great city where we are now united and where Christ is borne as a conqueror before vast worshipping throngs? May we not suppose that a benevolent Providence grant them this supreme consolation?"

Augsberg Anniversary Celebrated by Lutherans

Lutherans celebrated yesterday the 396th anniversary of the Augsburg confession, which, it was said, established the infallibility of the Bible and the doctrine of justification by faith as taught by Martin Luther.

Jefferson Park English Evangelical Lutheran church at Norwood park and Long avenue dedicated a $45,000 building in the afternoon. The Rev. August F. Lindemeyer, the pastor, was in general charge.

WOMAN DRIVER'S SECOND VICTIM DIES; TOLL 363

Auto Kills a Wife; More than Score Injured.

Maurice Lochner, 58 years old, died yesterday at Mount Sinai hospital, where he was taken on May 19 after Mrs. Grace Spillman, of 3501 West Huron street, had driven her new automobile into a crowd at Roosevelt road and Central Park avenue, killing one woman and injuring Lochner and three others.

Mrs. Spillman, who tried twice to commit suicide while she was being held by the police, was dismissed after a charge of manslaughter had been placed against her in connection with the death of the woman, Mrs. Evelyn Legnik, 22 years old. A similar charge may follow the coroner's investigation of the Lochner death, police said. Lochner lived at 1325 South Central Park avenue.

Woman Killed by Auto.
His death, with that of Mrs. Hazel Sexton, 22 years old, 7234 Bennett avenue, yesterday raised the toll of motor accidents in Cook county this year to 363. More than a score of others were injured in crashes.

Mrs. Sexton was instantly killed early yesterday when, in changing from the front to the rear seat of an automobile at 834 street and Western avenue, she was struck by another automobile driven at a high speed.

With her were George Voris, a real estate dealer, of 1527 West 95th street, and another couple. The driver of the second car did not stop. Voris, leaving the other couple with the injured woman, went in pursuit, but was outdistanced.

Seven Injured; Youth Arrested.
Fred Champlin, 21 years old, 2436 Orrington avenue, Evanston, was arrested by the Evanston police early in the day after an automobile in which he was riding with another youth and two girls crashed into a machine at Howard street and Ridge avenue, seriously injuring one woman and bruising six others.

Mrs. Margaret Schack, 55 years old, 1207 Park place, Evanston, suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. In the car with her were her sons, Eugene and Harry; her daughter, Christiana, and three visitors to the Eucharistic congress from Shellwood, Wis. They are Miss Josephine Otto, Mrs. Matthew Maurer, and Miss Louise Wesenberger.

Son of Soap Firm Official.
Young Champlin is the son of C. F. Champlin, secretary of the James Kirk company, soap manufacturer. According to the police, he admitted that he had been drinking. With him were Thomas Hammond of 4506 McVicker avenue; Miss Dorothy Kirsch of 265 Ridge avenue, Kenilworth; and Miss Peggy Kennedy of 4900 North Ashland avenue. Champlin was released yesterday afternoon on bonds of $5,000 after being charged with assault.

Ray Willie, 11 years old, of Libertyville, was killed when a car in which he was riding with her brother, Clarence, collided with a Skokie valley electric train at the Stewart avenue crossing in Libertyville.

John Barrett, 21 years old, 6208 South Halsted street, suffered a fractured skull when he was struck by a car driven by George Costello of 8102 Loomis street. The accident occurred near Barrett's home. Costello was held. Joseph Krattuski, 30 years old, 3303 South Seelye avenue, was seriously injured when his automobile overturned on Archer avenue, in Summit, and caught fire.

Michael Metter, 24 years old, of 3312 West Madison street, was severely cut and bruised when his automobile ran into a ditch near Riverside. Henry Hanson, 36 years old, 1903 Milwaukee avenue, suffered a fractured leg when the motorcycle on which he was riding collided with an automobile at 21st street and Western avenue.

A woman who was struck and seriously injured by a taxicab at 63d street and Elmhurst avenue late Saturday was identified at the Washington Park hospital as Mrs. Ida Jacoby, 62 years old, of 6022 South Union avenue. Her skull was fractured.

THRONGS VISIT MUNDELEIN, BUT AUTOS ARE FEW

Automobile roads leading to Mundelein were strangely free of their usual congestion yesterday and last night, although traffic authorities had made arrangements to care for 20,000 pilgrim cars during the day. At 4 p. m. Milwaukee avenue, the direct trunk highway leading to the religious center, carried hardly more than its normal week day traffic.

Thousands of devout pilgrims filled the vast grounds of St. Mary's of the Lake through the long afternoon and evening, but the majority used trains to Mundelein for fear of possible traffic jams on the roads. No automobiles were allowed inside the grounds during the day. Visitors who drove parked their cars along the pavement near the main gate and entered on foot.

FALLS FROM BUS: KILLED.
Patrick Monahan, 40 years old, an employee of the Chicago Motor Bus company, died yesterday morning at the Washington Park hospital from injuries suffered on June 18, when he slipped and fell down the steps of a motor bus.

POLICE DISCOVER BULLET RIDDLED, BLOODY AUTO

A shooting affair, with a possibility of murder involved, was being investigated by the city and highway police last night following the discovery of a bullet riddled, blood stained automobile at Central Park avenue and 115th street, Mount Greenwood.

The car belonged to the Royal Rent-A-Car company, and was hired Saturday by John W. Burke Jr. of 6228 South Honore street. Burke, who told employees of the agency that he was a policeman, was questioned by the Chicago Lawn police.

He could throw little light on the mystery. He and Albert Flaherty of 9331 South Marshfield avenue were in the car, he said, when eight men halted them at 115th street and Ridge road avenue, beat them, and tossed them out. Any shooting that occurred came later, he asserted. His story of being a policeman was merely a pleasant fiction, he added.

DU PAGE STATE'S ATTORNEY HERO OF BOOZE RAID

Nabs 4 Leggers After a Fierce Battle.

It was during the eerie hours of yesterday's early morning that State's Attorney Chauncey W. Reed of Du Page county, turned prohibition raider—and as such went all the way.

He invaded a farm bootlegery with all the romantic setting of a Kentucky mountain still; he fought a fierce revolver battle with a trio of rum runners, outmaneuvered them and in the end seized four of them, incidentally capturing one of the biggest moon alky plants taken in these parts for many a day.

Claims Diamond Joe as Kin.
The four bootleggers taken gave the conventional Sicilian names. One said he was Tony Nariassa, and by way of proving his caste connections, added: "I'm a cousin of 'Diamond Joe'—'Dimmy Joe' Exposito, you know." The others were Ed Luzia and his son, John, and Jim Carrasha, all of whom simply said they came from Chicago.

The quartet was held to the grand jury in an immediate session of Justice J. A. Strubler's court in Naperville, and lodged in the Wheaton jail.

The three big stills of the "shiners," having a capacity of 4,500 gallons a week [at $5 a gallon, figure it out] had been operating for an indefinite period on what is known as the "old Dr. John Bell farm" two miles south of Naperville.

Steadily the stills had been cooking out their stream of pure white gold, so to speak, in the big farm barn on a big bend in the Du Page river—a solid and spacious building, prettily surrounded by big oaks and maples and birches and silver poplars, so that it was almost hidden from sight.

Trucks of 188 Proof.
For months, State's Attorney Reed has been told, the trucks had passed along the road to and through Naperville laden each time with a small fortune in 188 (or more) proof.

So it was in yesterday's eerie hour that the state's attorney, his assistant, Russell Keeney, and his investigator, Peter J. McDonnell, hid themselves on the road outside the farm, and when the load came out got busy.

As the truck passed Reed rose and leveling his pistol called for a halt. Instead the truck cut down through the ditch on the opposite side and away at full speed. The state's attorney and his assistants leaped into their own machine and gave chase.

Then followed the running revolver battle in which many shots were exchanged and the bullets whistled about the ears of all concerned until finally, Nariassa, Ed Luzia and his son, John, raised their hands in token of surrender. Jim Carrasha was found back at the barn in charge of the big still.

ville laden each time with a small fortune in 188 (or more) proof.
So it was in yesterday's eerie hour that the state's attorney, his assistant, Russell Keeney, and his investigator, Peter J. McDonnell, hid themselves on the road outside the farm, and when the load came out got busy.
As the truck passed Reed rose and leveling his pistol called for a halt. Instead the truck cut down through the ditch on the opposite side and away at full speed. The state's attorney and his assistants leaped into their own machine and gave chase.

10,000 TO GUARD ROUTES TO FETE NEXT THURSDAY

More than 400 miles of main highways in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin will be under the direct control of the traffic regulation army which has been organized and trained to make the way smooth for the pilgrimage to Mundelein on Thursday, the closing day of the congress.

Ten thousand men will patrol the roads from Kenosha on the north to Joliet on the south and from the Fox river valley on the west to Lake Michigan, to direct and protect the gigantic movement.

The group of men responsible for the traffic plan include: Lieut. David Flynn of the Chicago police department; Sheriff Edwin Ahlstrom of Lake county; Lew Hendee, county clerk of Lake county; Frank Fowler, president of the Waukegan chamber of commerce; Jesse Hyatt, president of the North Shore Electric lines; Arthur Jones, manager of the Lake County Land association; Ray Paddock, president of the Lake county board; the Rev. Francis Shea; and James Walker, Chicago traffic and construction engineer.

GERMANYPAYSON DOT, DAWES PLAN AGENT DECLARES

Report on Reparations Is Marked by Optimism.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Copyright, 1926, By The Chicago Tribune.
BERLIN, June 20.—Optimism features a detailed report on reparations and on the economic situation in Germany and central Europe, issued today by Seymour Pariser Gilbert, American agent general under the Dawes plan. The report covers nine months of the second year of the operation of the Dawes plan, which helped to reestablish financial normalcy in Germany.

Germany is surmounting the acute crisis after taking the bitter medicine of stabilization which cost the country the bulk of its savings and capital, according to the reparations agent.

The reestablishment has consolidated its position and the stability of Germany's currency is now assured, the report asserted.

Germany Meets Its Payments.
The agent general stresses the regularity in Germany's payments under the provisions of the Dawes plan. Total payments made during the first year and nine months of the second year aggregate $430,956,180, up to May 31.

Of about $200,000,000 in payments on the second annuity, France received $109,955,714. Of this sum, it has used $12,235,000 for expenses of the army of occupation in the Rhineland. The bulk of France's share was made in deliveries in kind while 32 per cent was turned over in foreign currency.

Funds made available to England aggregated $109,615,000 while sums received by the other allied nations, Italy, Belgium, Roumania, Japan, Portugal, Greece, Poland and Serbia were smaller. The share of the United States for the first nine months of the second annuity amounted to $3,222,381, and this amount, together with a credit of about $3,882,000 which represents its unused share of the first annuity, remains to the credit of the United States on the books of the agent general.

Credit Conditions Better.
The reparations agent points out that in this second year of the Dawes plan's operation "Germany is still passing through a searching process of readjustment" which reached its climax last winter. "As spring progresses, the more serious aspects of the crisis will be moderated. Credit conditions have turned to nearer normal than at any time since the stabilization."

The main optimism of the agent general centers in the report on German railways.

"During the first business year, companies under the Dawes plan were operating with receipts exceeding operating expenses by more than 800,000,000 reichsmarks [$188,000,000], even after providing for exceptional expenditures," he says. However, he does not believe the time is yet ripe to market the reparations bonds of the German railways.

FLYER FOUND

PARA, Brazil, June 20.—(AP)—Bernardo Duggan, the Argentine aviator, and his companion, Olivero, who have been missing for a week, are safe. They arrived today at Vigia, state of Para, having left their hydro-airplane on the island of Maraca, 300 miles north of the mouth of the Amazon, where they made a landing because of lack of gasoline.

Both aviators are well. They reached Vigia by canoe. A message from the mayor of Vigia to the Argentine consul at Para stated briefly:

"The Argentine aviators are safe at my house."

Duggan and Olivero disappeared last Sunday after they had left Paramaribo, capital of Dutch Guiana on their New York to Buenos Aires flight. They were last reported over Cayenne, French Guiana.

After leaving the Guianas Sunday, bad weather was encountered. This necessitated the use of much gas, and about noon the aviators arrived at the island of Maraca. It still was storming, but fortunately a craft, described as a large Indian canoe, was sighted.

Señor Duggan descended and asked for assistance, which was immediately given by Capt. Josina Cardoso and his crew. The plane was towed to the island by another canoe, and the aviators embarked on Capt. Cardoso's boat and proceeded to Vigia, where they arrived last midnight.

The mayor of Vigia has requested the port captain of Para to send a tug to Vigia to carry Señores Duggan and Olivero back to Maraca so that they may refuel their machines and renew their flight.

CHILE FAILS TO APPEAL ENDING OF PLEBISCITE

ARICA, June 20.—(U. N. J.)—The five day period in which the motion to end the Tacna-Arica plebiscitary proceedings may be appealed by Chile has expired. No appeal was filed before plebiscitary commission this morning.

Gen. William Lasiter, chairman of the commission, boarded the United States cruiser Denver this afternoon and will sail tomorrow morning.

Statement by Chile.
SANTIAGO, Chile, June 20.—(U. N. J.)—The Chilean foreign office has sent an official communication to its embassies and legations and to all Chilean newspapers, saying that American good offices probably would have had beneficial results in settling the Tacna-Arica controversy, if the plebiscitary proceedings, as called for by President Coolidge, had not been abruptly and illegally terminated. The note says that Gen. Lasiter's arbitrary motion to end the plebiscite left Chile no alternative except to reserve its rights and prepare to protest the commission's action.

KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN.
Harvey J. Bull, 40 years old, 7435 Harvard avenue, was killed last night when he was struck by a freight train while crossing the tracks of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad at West 90th street.

BRIAND AGAIN AT FRENCH HELM AS HERRIOT FLUKES

Hopes to Get Poincare and Caillaux in Cabinet.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, June 20.—Dramatic developments, further complicating the government crisis, arose this morning when Edouard Herriot abandoned his night long efforts to form a cabinet.

President Doumergue again summoned Aristide Briand and tonight the veteran politician announced the probability of completing the task tomorrow.

Either Joseph Caillaux or Raymond Poincare is expected to accept the ministry of finance, which holds the key to the situation, as the finance completely dominates the nation's entire political aspect.

Center Group Man Spurns Place.
Tired and haggard, walking with a slight limp from a leg ailment, M. Herriot, the left center leader, gave up the job of premier-designate when Champetier de Ribes, a practically unknown deputy but leader of one of the minor center groups, refused to accept a place in the cabinet. M. Pictet and Lucien Romier, who had tentatively accepted portfolios representing the right center parties, immediately withdrew their support.

Wearily donning his official high hat and frock coat, M. Herriot drove to the Elysees palace, where the president, warned by telephone, hurriedly dressed to receive him.

After a short wait, M. Herriot entered President Doumergue's office and was served while M. Herriot announced the impossibility of forming a government and recommended that M. Briand try again.

Rout Briand from Bed.
Enjoying a good night's sleep after a three days' attempt to form a cabinet last week, M. Briand was routed out of his bed and, unhappily and sleep-eyed, he drove to the Elysees, where, over more coffee, he agreed to have another try at reforming the ministry.

"I am not sure that I have M. Poincare's support and must confer with him," said M. Briand. "But we must swing the weight of the next cabinet."

HUNGARIAN ARMY CHIEF IS ACCUSED OF AIDING GRAFT

Asks Police Search for Two Indian Girl Pilgrims

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 20.—Another first rate scandal in Hungarian politics is foreshadowed in the sensational charges made today by the Hungarian terrorist and pogrom leader, Col. Paul Pronay, who is defending a libel suit brought by the commander in chief of the Hungarian army, Gen. Paul Nagy.

Col. Pronay offered to produce evidence that many judge advocates of Hungarian military courts belong to secret societies and regard their membership oaths alone as binding, ignoring their oaths of office, and that military judges belonging to such societies tip off the defendants, if they are fellow members, as to how to defend themselves.

Col. Pronay further charges that Gen. Nagy was involved in the graft case of Lieut. Lederer, who was sentenced to death for murdering and blinding his wife's lover and also that the general recently shielded the murderer of the demimonde.

GIRLS' SCREAMS BRING POLICE, FOIL ASSAILANT

Leo Fojut, 34 years old, married, residing at 2330 South Albany avenue, was arrested early this morning when the screams of two young women he was attempting to drag into an alley attracted the attention of a detective bureau squad under command of Sgt. J. Clasko. The girls—Helen Ross, 21, and Alice Kubechull, 20, both of 2323 South Troy street—were on their way home from a dance they told the police. Between 22d and 23d streets Fojut seized them, they said, and started pulling them into the alley. Miss Kubechull broke away and ran back to the street screaming just as the bureau car came along. Fojut ran, but was caught after a short chase. He would make no statement.

AUTHORITY ON CHILD DISEASES DIES IN LONDON

Baltimore, Md., June 20.—(AP)—Dr. John Howland, regarded as one of the world's leading authorities on diseases of children, died today in London. It was stated in a cablegram received at Johns Hopkins university. Dr. Howland was professor of pediatrics in the Johns Hopkins medical school and pediatrician-in-chief of Johns Hopkins hospital. He died after an internal operation performed following a collapse in London last week.

Holland Votes $440,000 for 4 New War Vessels

Imprison 300 Portuguese Troops for Lisbon Mutiny

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
THE HAGUE, June 20.—The Dutch second chamber yesterday voted an appropriation of 1,100,000 guilders ($441,760) for the building of two destroyers and two flotilla vessels, destined for Dutch Indian service.

LISBON, Portugal, June 20.—A band of 300 artillerymen were imprisoned today in the fortress of San Julião, outside the capital, for refusing to obey their officers. Gen. Gomes Da Costa now is installed in the presidential palace.

LEAGUE TO MIX IN MISSOURI SENATE FIGHT

New Chief, on Scene, Indorses Proctor Race.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 20.—[Special]—The Missouri Anti-Saloon league has decided to take an active hand in the selection of candidates for United States senator in the Republican as well as the Democratic primaries on AUG. 2.

Without waiting for Senator George H. Williams, Republican candidate to succeed himself, to state his position on the liquor question, the Rev. Parker Shields of St. Louis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, has declared in favor of David M. Proctor of this city, one of Senator Williams' opponents.

William L. King, district superintendent for the Anti-Saloon league for twenty-eight western Missouri counties, expressed surprise when informed that Shields had committed his organization to Proctor.

Will Work with Proctor. "I thought the plan was to wait until Senator Williams had declared himself," Mr. King said. "However, I shall work with Proctor and urge his nomination among the Republican drys of my district."

Mr. King arrived here last week to take charge of the local office. He came from Milwaukee. He succeeds the late Dr. W. S. Forman, Mr. Shields also is new in Missouri, having come from Tennessee only a few months ago. Mr. King said "if Senator Williams was dry, then he should not have hesitated to say so."

"Did you know that Proctor voted against the state enforcement act of your own organization in the 1923 legislature?" he was asked.

Mr. King replied he had heard that. Local dry officials said he understood, however, Proctor had voted with the St. Louis wets in the legislature because he objected to an amendment made to the bill.

According to Senator A. L. McCawley of Carthage, who sponsored the present state dry law, the late Dr. Forman, representing the anti-saloon league in that legislative session, approved of all amendments made in the ally of old guard.

The anti-saloon league has become an unwitting ally in the plan of the "old guard" republican politicians to obtain revenge on Senator Williams for refusal to recommend their choice for federal officials in Kansas City. Prohibition was dragged into the Republican primary campaign after the politicians now supporting Proctor found that the league of nations would court issue was not popular with the Republican voters.

Indorsement of Proctor's candidacy by Mr. Shields is in face of the fact that most of the leading dry Republicans, both in Kansas City and in the

ROBBER, POSING AS PRIEST, TAKES $300 COLLECTION

Police squads are looking for a man representing himself as the Rev. John Baptist Rossi, a pilgrim to the Eucharistic congress, who walked away from the Annunciation church, at 1650 North Paulina street, yesterday, with a collection of $300.

When the supposed priest arrived at the rectory he showed the pastor, the Rev. Thomas L. Harmon, a letter of introduction purporting to have been written by the prefect of the college of propaganda in Rome. It stated that he had been given a leave of absence.

Yesterday morning the pilgrim reported that he was ill, but would be able to say late masses. He departed with the money—about thirty pounds of silver—shortly after Father Harmon went to the Holy Name cathedral. He also took an overcoat. The pastor told Sgt. Thomas Baynes that there was no doubt the man was an impostor.

LATIN HATERS OF U. S. URGE FREE PORTO RICO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] BALBOA, Canal Zone, June 20.—At the Bolivian congress today Alfonso Trejo Castillo, delegate from Honduras, moved that the United States grant independence to Porto Rico. He said that the "United States should" "prove the sincerity of her heart's nobility," saying it was the desire of the Latin American states to see Porto Rico free.

Senator Castillo's motion was referred to the committee for report Monday on whether it is within the survey of the congress.

The native press is playing up the statement. Senator Castillo said at the inauguration of the congress on Friday night, "This congress will put to a test the fraternity which the United States professes with Latin America."

The Mexican delegate, in a speech, also showed an anti-American attitude.

WHEELER FUND DONORS FINANCED BROOKHART RACE

Saw Chance to Continue
Fight on "Interests."

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., June 20.—[Special.]—An interesting story was revealed today of how contributors to the $20,000 fund raised for the defense of Senator Burton K. Wheeler (Dem., Mont.) against federal conspiracy charges were similarly rallied to the support of Smith W. Brookhart, who defeated Senator Cummins (Rep., Ia.) in the recent Iowa primary.

In a statement filed with the Iowa secretary of state, Brookhart, who was ousted from the senate as the result of a recount which seated Daniel F. Steck (Dem., Ia.), asserted that his campaign for the senatorial nomination against Senator Cummins cost exactly $1,489 and that most of the contributions were gathered through the so-called Wheeler defense fund. Of the amount contributed, $444 remains unspent.

Blamed Charges on Daugherty.
Slightly more than $20,000 was raised by friends of Senator Wheeler to finance his defense of the indictments which were voted against him in a District of Columbia court. The charges were inspired, according to Basil M. Manly, who acted as vice president of the fund committee, by former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and others in retaliation for Wheeler's activity in the exposure of the Daugherty and Teapot Dome scandals.

A few weeks ago, when a local federal judge dismissed the indictment

DIVERS TO TRY TO LIFT SUBMARINE S-51, SEA COFFIN OF 24, TODAY

New London, Conn., June 20.—(AP)—Divers today made final preparations for the navy's attempt to raise the S-51, sunken submarine believed to be the sarcophagus of 24 men.

Weather conditions permitting, the navy's effort to salvage the submarine, which was rammed by the steamer City of Rome the night of Sept. 25, will be made tomorrow.

The S-51 lies under 130 feet of water about 14 miles east of Block Island.

Of the crew of 36 aboard the S-51, three were rescued. Nine bodies were recovered later.

Forward of the conning tower, six pontoons rest on the bottom of the sea, three on each side of the S-51. Aft are two more, one on each side. They are filled with water. Heavy chains run from pontoon to pontoon beneath the submarine.

In attempting to raise the S-51, the pontoons will be blown free of water, and filled with compressed air. They are believed to have sufficient lifting power to raise the submarine. Conditions permitting, she will be towed to Brooklyn navy yard. Otherwise the S-51 will be towed into shallow water.

Against Senator Wheeler, it was found that about $3,000 still remained in the defense fund. According to Manly, a novel scheme to dispose of the surplus, and at the same time continue the fight against the influence which were credited with securing Wheeler's indictment, was hit upon.

Dividing the $3,000 pro rata among the fifty or sixty original contributors, Senator Wheeler sent what he called "dividend checks" to each. And with each check he sent a personal letter, describing Brookhart's fight in Iowa and pointing out that Blair Coan, former Washington newspaper man and former department of justice agent who worked up the case against Wheeler, was actively opposing Brookhart.

Urged Aid for Brookhart.

The letters urged those receiving the checks to immediately make them over to the Brookhart campaign fund. If they were interested in continuing the fight against Wheeler's enemies, which were Brookhart's as well, and according to Manly, it is believed that at least half of the $3,000 left in the Wheeler defense fund found its way quickly to the Brookhart campaign committee's treasury.

Norman Hagood, the journalist, acted as chairman of the Wheeler defense fund committee. Manly is a Washingtonian and executive head of the People's Legislative service, a radical organization formed by the late Senator La Follette.

Others on the committee, which included many prominent educators and lawyers, were Dr. Mercer F. Johnston, a Baltimore clergyman, who acted as secretary, and Miss Elizabeth Gilman, a daughter of the late Daniel Coit Gilman, former president of Johns Hopkins university, who was the treasurer.

MEXICO PUTS PUBLIC DEBT ON INTEREST BASIS

New York, June 20.—(AP)—Resumption of the semi-yearly payments of interest on the various bond issues of Mexico by the Mexican government has been made possible with the June payment of the monthly sum agreed upon with the committee of bondholders, Arturo M. Elias, financial agent of the Mexican government, announced tonight.

"In view of conditions throughout the world," he said, "it is with pardonable pride that Mexico, torn by years of internal struggles, announces that she places her public debt on an interest yielding basis. Had it not been for the sinister influences both within and without Mexico that were responsible for the De la Huerta rebellion, Mexico would have been able to resume interest payments upon her public debt in 1923.

Theater Man Arrested Under Child Labor Law

Henry, executive secretary of the national Socialist party.

Spry Senora of 83 Is Here for the Congress

Señora Delina de Duron, who is 83 years old but a spry traveler, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Sonora, Mexico, to attend the Eucharistic congress. She went to stay at the artist studio of Charles Aulet, at 4 West Chestnut street, with her two grandsons who are University of Arizona students. The señora traveled to Rome during holy year.

11 DIPS IN JAIL; JUDGES ASKED TO DENY WRITS

With eleven alleged pickpockets under arrest last night, Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker requested that judges decline to issue writs of habeas corpus in their behalf until after the Eucharistic congress is over.

Police at Mundelein and Libertyville announced that any pickpockets found there during the ceremonies would be thrown into jail and that no courts in Lake county would give them writs. Two visitors to the congress reported losses of money yesterday. Capt. M. Nolan of Astoria, Ore., was robbed of $200 and traveler's checks for $400 by a pickpocket near the Holy Name cathedral. The Rev. Hugh L. McMennamin of Denver, Colo., said that thieves entered his hotel room and took $150.

The Pick of America's Best

OUT of the small group of home electric refrigeration units which form the aristocracy of the field, we selected Copeland Electric Refrigeration and on it staked our future. We made the selection after thorough investigation and test had proved the superiority of Copeland Electric Refrigeration in performance and quality. We disregarded sales records, believing that the best must eventually lead in sales, and that belief is daily being justified, for each day our sales are more.

*Investigate as we investigated
—then decide*

*Our payment plan is better
—more convenient*

Don't choose any type of electric refrigeration for your home hastily; see and study the leading makes, getting every possible fact about them, before you decide. Be as careful as we were. Take nothing for granted. Talk to owners of different equipments. They'll tell you the truth, having no axes to grind. Come to our beautiful display room and get our story; then check it against the experience of owners of Copeland Electric Refrigeration and any other equipment that interests you. We have no doubt as to the result. We know that what our own investigation revealed yours will reveal.

We have improved on the customary convenient payment plan—made it easier for you to purchase Copeland Electric Refrigeration. Our arrangement enables you to dispense at once with the bother and inefficiency of delivered ice, and to have the convenience and food-protection of Copeland's dry, cold air, maintained always at less than 50° and at the lowest efficient operating cost possible. Start your investigation of electric refrigeration in our display room today—don't let the summer go by without this greatest of home conveniences and health safeguards.

MARQUETTE JOLIET—LA SALLE

Heroic figures from out the past! Pathfinders in the wilderness—which afterwards became our city.

First bearers of a message of Christian faith to this region—which in after generations now becomes the scene of one of the most stupendous gatherings of Christian pilgrims the world has ever known.

Honored names, cherished through two and a half centuries of Mid-west American history, far-famed today as names of cities, streets, and institutions.

These great souls came here in peace and good will and left upon the region their blessing and the prophetic inspiration of their hopes for the future.

The region has prospered beyond any human power to hope. From the very ground on which they planted the emblems of their faith there rise today unnumbered towers and spires that betoken a vast faith in the future that is yet to be.

In their spirit perchance the Christian pilgrims who come today will leave upon the region their blessing, that it may continue to multiply its inspiration through the unlied centuries.

In these names Chicago gives welcome today to the pilgrims from all over the world who have honored our city with their presence.

DRUSES ASK U. S. SYMPATHY IN WAR ON FRENCH

Want Syria for Syrians, Sultan Declares.

DAMASCUS, Syria (By Courier to Haifa, Palestine), June 20.—(AP)—Sultan Pasha Attrache, commander in chief of the Druse armies, which have been fighting the French troops in the Djebel Druse for nearly a year, sends a message to the American people through the Associated Press.

The statement is written entirely in the Druse leader's own hand from his headquarters in the Houran mountains. The message was brought to the Associated Press correspondent by one of the Sultan's trusted lieutenants, who succeeded in crossing the ring of steel, barbed wire, block houses and barricades encircling Damascus.

The message reads: "We present our dignified respects, due to your honorable impartiality in offering to place the case of the Druse people before the American nation. We beg to state that we have heard that some newspapers in the hire of our enemies are fabricating groundless news about our Syrian national revolution.

"The allegations that we are waging war against the Christians in beloved Syria are false, and every law-minded man in the incident should be told so. Our revolt is the result of atrocities committed by French colonial agents (the last three words are underscored in red ink in the text) who have violated the sacred rights of our country.

"One among the evils of our enemies have recently perpetrated in our country is that of distributing arms to Christian Syrians to be used to fight up. As a result, some of our Christian brethren lost their heads and began attacking our army which was following the enemy.

Wants Syria for Syrians.
"Our good intention has been evidenced by the fact that not one of the peaceable citizens has been touched in the numerous places in which our army has already entered. We feel that we are all brethren of humanity, and that Syria is for Syrians, regardless of their religion or faith.

"We are innocent of the Christian blood that has been shed, because we did not attack the Christians, but they have been killed, figuratively speaking, by the very arms they received from the French government, and with which they have killed their brethren who have risen to liberate the country in which we all live.

"Therefore we pray you to take note and inform your countrymen and all those Christians and others, who hear your great voice that their good is our good, their misfortunes our misfortunes. We make no distinction in religions or sects, as our only aim is to obtain our legal rights, which belong equally to the sons of Syria, whatever they may be.

Promises Security for All.
"We have been, we still are, and shall be careful to guard the rights and security of all. We don't wish to interfere with any one who does not expose himself in opposition to our army fighting with our enemies. We wish to avoid all acts that might touch the feelings of natives or foreigners in Syria, with the exception of those who show us hostility or who become spies against us.

"In closing, we hope and pray for the sympathy of the American people for our cause, begging that we may not be excluded from the assistance of the good men of America.

[Signed]:
"The Leader of the Armies of the Syrian National Revolution, Sultan Pasha, Attrache."

CHICAGO DELEGATES TO AD CLUBS' MEET REACH PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20.—(Special.)—A twelve car advertising special, bearing 136 delegates to the 22d annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs, arrived this morning from Chicago. The delegation was headed by C. A. Tupper, vice chairman of the "On to Philadelphia" committee of the Advertising Council of Chicago. Theodore Gerlach of Joliet, chairman, and Guy W. Cooke, of Chicago, vice chairman of the International "On to Philadelphia" committee also were aboard.

Among the others were the following members of the National Advertising commission: W. Frank McClure of Chicago, who has been chairman of the National commission for eight years; Charles Henry Mackintosh, former president of the Associated Advertising clubs; W. H. Hodge, president of the Public Utilities Advertising association, and C. L. Perkins, former president of the classified advertising managers' association.

The special was arranged by Paul S. Van Aken, secretary of the Advertising council of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce. Delegations from the advertising clubs of Milwaukee, Peoria, Joliet, Davenport, Des Moines and other mid-western cities were on the train.

St. Paul, Minn., June 20.—(AP)—P. O'Hara of Glencoe formally resigned his position as state commander of the Minnesota department, American Legion.

AMERICA BLOCKS GENEVA LIMITS ON AIR GROWTH

Demands Separation of Sky and Sea Disarming.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
GENEVA, June 20.—The preparatory disarmament commission of the league of nations will adjourn for three weeks about July 1 or as soon as the sub-committee on disarmament finishes consideration of a few more irrelevant points on questions concerning aircraft.

The causes of the adjournment are said to be two dominating factors which, under the surface are influencing the league's attempts at disarmament. These are the doubts expressed regarding the smooth sailing for the league of nations in the future, in view of Brazil's withdrawal, and the uncertainty regarding Germany's entrance into the league in September.

Yankee Efforts Fail.
Despite the heroic efforts of the Americans to inject seriousness into the consideration and to facilitate the speeding up of the deliberations, sabotaging on the part of certain delegations continues. The motion to adjourn was carried, with the British, French, Italian, Japanese and Czechoslovakians abstaining and with the Americans and Argentines opposing.

The American delegation, while it is pledged to remain at Geneva until the work is finished or the session has broken up, have the feeling that the French probably will resurrect the demand for a separate consideration of naval and aerial disarmament, thereby making possible a regional agreement between Japan, the United States and Great Britain regarding cruisers. Aircraft limitation admitted, by is impossible, inasmuch as the United States is not inclined to limit the development of commercial aircraft, and aerial warfare becomes more drastic yearly.

Since Brazil's withdrawal from the league has become official, the recent unfavorable pronouncements from Madrid have been heard and Warsaw is declaring the Polish policy would noticeably be refrained in view of the developments, there has been a distinct atmosphere of pessimism in league circles. Something sinister is developing for the future, although actually there is small reason for distrust.

The international economic crisis in various countries also is resting on the league, inasmuch as the foreign policies of most of the members change with the complexion of the ministers.

Welcome to the Eucharistic Congress

As pioneers in mercantile methods; as originators of the mail order business, as a Chicago institution which today is world-wide in scope and as a sterling example of adherence to a policy based upon vision and ideals of service—we extend the facilities of our organization to the delegates and visitors to the Eucharistic Congress.

For this week special preparations have been made, both in our Retail Store and Mail Order Division, to give a cordial welcome to visitors.

One of the worth-while sights in the city is to tour our vast plant.

See the intricate details of how over eight million customers are served—see how 50,000 orders are received in a day, filled and placed in the hands of the Post Office within 24 hours—visit our Good Service Laboratories where merchandise is tested to insure quality.

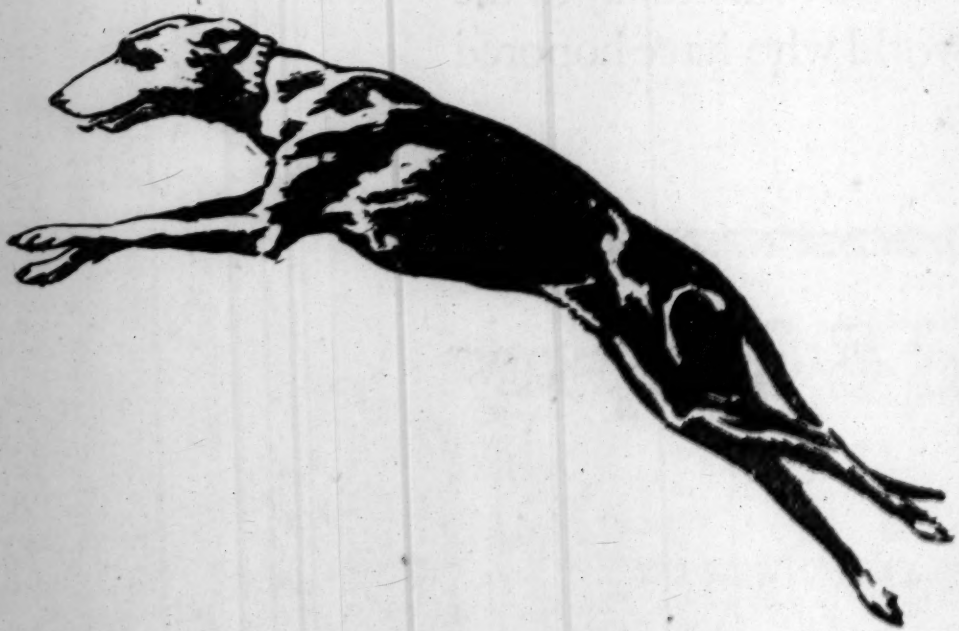

Guides are provided in the Retail Store, leaving our Customers' Reception Room.

One of America's great Institutions welcomes you.

VIENNA'S RENT PAYERS' UTOPIA THWARTS BOLOS

Real Estate Starts to Recover from Incubus.

BY ENID WILKIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
VIENNA, June 20.—While the world criticized the city of Vienna for what it termed a social experiment in housing, and especially for an enormous building program at a time when Austria was obliged to accept a loan from the league of nations to stabilize its currency, bolshevism probably was averted by the action.

The housing program enabled persons to rent houses at nominal rentals when wages and other sources shrank to nothing. Every apartment in Vienna is managed by the city housing commission, which has fixed rents and seized apartments too large for the families occupying them, putting in other tenants. There is much excitement abroad, and the landlords regard this as confiscation, claiming they are getting no return on their property.

Realty Now Improving.
It is true that the real estate market has been nonexistent for years, though now it is improving in anticipation of a change in the laws. As far as the charge of confiscation goes, the Social Democrats retort that the collapse of the currency and dismemberment of the empire has annihilated all the savings of the people and most of their personal property and it is only fair that the real estate owner bear their share of the depreciation. The Social Democrats argue that during the war, when the currency decreased to a twentieth, the real estate owners paid off their mortgages, which thus are a gift to them from the community.

Principally due to their housing policy, the Social Democrats' administration has kept in power in Vienna. The issue concerns every inhabitant of Austria, either as a tenant or landlord. The tenant protection law has been introduced in every town in Austria where the laborers have anything to say. It has enabled the masses to obtain homes, where otherwise they would be kicked into the streets, only to join the ranks of the communists.

Method of Payment.
The law not only prohibits the raising of rents on a gold basis but forces the landlords to charge a twentieth of the pre-war gold rents and prohibits ejection. The approximate basis is one room for one person, and tenants wishing to obtain more than the allotted share pay a ransom of $5 for each extra room, which is delivered into the city building fund.

The laws are administered humanely and there are no flagrant examples of injustice. There also is a building tax, which goes into the building fund, and every tenant is assessed according to the size of his premises.

Before the war the Viennese housing problem was serious, the laboring classes being huddled together like cattle. During the war there practically was no building, while the population increased, owing to the influx from the Russian states. The housing commission today has a list of 70,000 people who are looking for apartments.

Building 50,000 Flats.
The building program comprises 50,000 new apartments. These new apartments are built on the American style, with conveniences hitherto unknown in the Austrian lower and middle classes. They solve the housing problem to a large extent, but cost the taxpayer a huge sum.

The rents conform to those apartments mentioned above, having two rooms, with hall and pantry and the use of the laundry, and costing about $1.50 a month. They are built for the working class and are a plank of the democratic platform.

Only Social Democrats can aspire to these apartments and semi-detached houses, which would revolutionize the model villages and tenements of the United States.

City and State Plans.
The city of Vienna and the federal state controls 75 per cent of the wealth of the whole of Austria. City building also aims at the socializing of the whole building trade and is succeeding. The municipal houses are getting away entirely from the tenement idea and are providing not only clean and comfortable, but pleasing and artistic quarters, thus contributing to the new cultural standard of the working class.

Up to March 1 the housing commission could seize the apartments vacated by death or departure. After a long fight in parliament the federal government abolished the law. The landlords are disposing of the newly vacated flats, but they cannot raise the rents.

The extensive building program is one of the most important factors in the relieving of unemployment. The new apartments are freed from the building tax for ten years and are allowed to charge higher rents, but buildings still are impossible as an investment.

While the social democrats claim the raising of rents would revolutionize wages and living prices, the government maintains that as long as the real estate is worthless it is impossible to raise the much needed loans abroad.

FINNS AND LETTS HOLD BIG REUNION IN FESTIVE RIGA

May Be Basis for Baltic Alliance.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
RIGA, June 20.—The Finnish president, Dr. Lauri Relander, will arrive at Riga tomorrow, returning the recent visit of the Latvian President Tachakste at Helsingfors. The Letts are making great preparations to fête the first official Finnish visitors.
Both Estonians and Latvians now believe that Finland definitely has abolished its policy of isolation in Baltic politics. There is a strong possibility of the northern Baltic states signing a defensive military pact, such as exists between Estonia and Latvia today.

Fly Two Flags.
Red and white Latvian flags and blue and white Finnish flags are flying from every building in Riga, while the government buildings are festooned with garlands of the national colors of both countries. The Finnish guests are promised a warm welcome by the 100,000 country people visiting Riga to attend the festivities, which include the sixth Latvian song festival with a choir of 6,000 singers.

The foreign visitors include many Lettish Americans, some coming from California.

Because Russia is making heavy charges on alien travelers from Russia—Poland $100, and Lithuania $20 for foreign passports, the number of foreign visitors at Riga is not up to expectations.

Let Down Barriers.

Many Estonian and Finnish delegates have arrived as they are hoping that this display of unity among its northern neighbors will induce Lithuania not to enter a pact with the Bolsheviks. Negotiations between Moscow and Kovno have been proceeding for some time and an announcement of a Lithuanian-Russian agreement is expected daily.

PLANE STOLEN BY BOOTLEGGER, POLICE BELIEVE

Highway police under the direction of Chief Leroy Davidson yesterday started a search for an airplane which they believe to have been stolen from the field at Maywood by bootleggers. The ship, a Yackey two seat type, valued at $1,975, was painted in silver, had a large figure "36" on the wings, and is believed to have been flown toward the Canadian border. It is owned by Arthur W. Killips of Lyons. Lieut. C. A. Wolf and Sgt. William Bokholdt of the highway force, are now seeking a boy who inspected the plane last Thursday and who was seen to act suspiciously in the neighborhood of the hangar.

AGED WOMAN DIES OF POISON.
Mrs. Frances Paltaykont, 67 years old, 8348 South Eganway avenue, died yesterday at the South Shore hospital from iodine poisoning. Dependency over ill health was supposed to have prompted the act.

PRESIDENT OF HAITI TELLS OF POLITICS THERE

U. S. Marines Keep Peace.

For just one moment from the polished, French accented English of an expression purely American, President Louis Borno of Haiti, a visitor to the Eucharistic congress, yesterday told why his people are always in political strife.

"It is simply a question of the 'ins' and 'outs' of the 'ins' he said. 'Little politicians, craving the power that is ours of the government, always setting up opposition to it.'"

And as quickly as the little politician set up their revolutionary tenets, the marines of Uncle Sam bowl them over, President Borno gave to understand, and that is the story of Haiti today.

Calm and Peaceful.
"Haiti is most calm and peaceful," declared the distinguished looking, carefully spoken Haitian, as he sat in his suite at the Surf apartment hotel. He had just come from an audience with Cardinal Mundelein.

"But remove your marines," and President Borno is gravely earnest, "and you would restore the terrible state of revolution that obtained in 1915."

"He must have time—just a few years more, perhaps—in which to adjust our people and our government. Then the marines may depart and Haiti may take its place among the respected nations of the world."

Many Americans do not know, Mr. Borno said, that the marines are not sent to Haiti by the whim of government, but by a solemn obligation assumed by the United States when the two countries entered into the treaty of 1915, formally placed into effect on May 6, 1916. By it the United States accepted the duty of maintaining peace in Haiti, and it has maintained peace, and successfully, ever since, the president said.

Spirit of Reaction.
"It is not yet time to withdraw," he went on, "for our opponents try always to maintain a spirit of reaction against the government."

Then President Borno went back to the terrifying times before the American intervention. More than 150 political prisoners of the government, many of them prominent Haitians, were murdered by the state soldiery. The president was assassinated. Government after government was overthrown by violence. Then came the treaty with America, and the marines.

And proudly the president of Haiti told how his predecessor, President Dargenave, had, before a great assemblage of the people, taken him, Borno, by the hand at the inaugural, and wished him success.

"I am the first ruler of Haiti who ever dared to leave the country, having no fear of political schemings against me," Mr. Borno said. "Nor have I ever had fear of assassination."

Must Control Politics.
"First we must control the political situation," the president said. "We must complete the organization of our native constabulary, which is making great strides under the teachings of American marine officers."

"We are building roads, extending irrigation, installing rural schools, teaching advanced agriculture—turning the people from revolution to good work."

RELIGION AIDS HEALTH, STATES WEEKLY BULLETIN

"Keep Faith with Yourself" is the title of the weekly bulletin of the health department issued today. It contains a number of one sentence health sermons written by Dr. Herman N. Bundeisen, commissioner of health.

In deference to the great religious gathering of the week.

"The basis of all normal religion is a healthy mind in a healthy body," the bulletin states, "one who lives by the precepts of religion lives rightly; that is, thinks rightly, eats rightly, sleeps rightly, works rightly, and plays rightly. Religion develops decency and a sense of right and wrong that promote health of mind and body to the advantage of one's self and society at large."

Continuing, Dr. Bundeisen says: "It is a relief to the troubled mind to confide in the priest, the rabbi, the minister, or other religious leader. Confession is good for the being. Children should be trained early in the habits of religion, for in this way they develop clean bodies and clean minds in adult life."

JURY ASKS DEATH FOR SLAYER.
Flanagan, Ariz., June 20.—(AP)—Greenville, W. Johnson of St. Louis was found guilty of first degree murder for the slaying of his wife. The penalty was fixed at death.

FOREIGN DEMAND FOR U. S. AUTOS SHOWS BIG GAIN

Washington, D. C., June 20.—(AP)—Although domestic production increased only 32 per cent, exports of automobile trucks and buses jumped more than 100 per cent in 1925, from 27,822, worth $19,199,344, to 58,624, valued at $37,703,302, the commerce department today reported.

The large increase was attributed to cheaper vehicles, the average unit value of $643 being 359 less than that of 1924, and the unusual conditions in certain markets. Australia, this country's leading market, took 155 per cent more commercial vehicles from the United States last year, largely, it was said, because of the peculiar need of that country for economical transportation.

CHICAGO'S GREATEST SHOPPING CENTER

Where the Discriminating Woman Does Her Shopping Quietly and Pleasantly and Satisfactorily

THE Stevens Building is unique in the history of Chicago—it is the home of the small shopkeeper with the French idea—an artist's interest in personal service. Not one of the men or women who have shops in the Stevens Building but could be high salaried executives in some large organization, but they prefer the quiet and refinement of this distinctive building—where they can cater to the needs of a smaller and more discriminating clientele, secure the artist's satisfaction in doing his work well. The Apparel and Costume Accessories, as well as other innumerable merchandise, that are found in the Stevens Building shops are invariably moderate in price, quality and style considered, and always different enough to be individual.

Think of it! Twelve Floors of Shops

Each floor a full block long, running through from State Street to Wabash Avenue, all under one roof. If these twelve blocks of splendid specialty shops were placed on the ground on Michigan Avenue they would extend from Randolph Street to Twelfth Street (Roosevelt Road), and each filled with merchandise that is artistic and attractive, and you don't have to dodge automobiles to go from one block to another, you simply step into an elevator and ride up or down to the next block.

THE ABOVE SIGHT IS WELL WORTH SEEING

There are almost one hundred Apparel and Accessories Shops of the Highest Character, as well as interesting places to buy Lingerie, Corsets, Shoes, Perfumes, Books, Purses, and Jewelry.

An exceptional Luggage Shop—Trunks, Bags and Leather Goods.

Some of the Best Furriers in Chicago are in the Stevens Building.

Scores of Individual Millinery Shops.

If you are seeking Antiques, Lamps or Shades, Silverware, China or Linens for the Home—or Gifts of Many Kinds—You will find many interesting Shops.

A Silk Shop of an unusual character.

There is a distinctive Shop for Wedding Invitations, fine Stationery, and unusual Greeting Cards.

One of the Finest Oriental Novelty Shops in America.

A Sewing Machine Shop of the highest standards.

Nearly thirty Beauty Parlors.

Also a Restaurant—a Photographer—a Platinumsmith—Cleaners and Dyers—Ladies' Tailors—Interior Decorators—a Pattern Shop and Several Embroidery Shops.

On each of the twelve floors there is a miniature street running through from State Street to Wabash Avenue, with the shop show windows fronting on it just as though they were fronting on the street at street level.

SALARY RAISES FOR U. S. JUDGES SEEM ASSURED

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., June 20.—(Special.)—House leaders have scheduled the federal judiciary salary bill for consideration on Tuesday, and, although considerable opposition is expected, the prospects are that the measure will pass. The bill was passed by the senate several months ago and has been on the house calendar for some time but action has been postponed on account of opposition from various quarters.

Raise Total $500,000.
The total now paid to the federal judiciary is about $1,500,000. The proposed increase would add a little more than $500,000 to this.

The bill increases salaries of the chief justice of the United States Supreme court from $15,000 to $20,000; associate justices from $14,500 to $20,000; judges of the federal circuit court of appeals from $8,500 to $12,500, and judges of the court of customs appeals, the same as circuit judges.

Deputies of the court of claims are to be advanced from $8,000 to $12,500 for the chief justice and from $7,500 to $12,500 for associate justices; judges of the court of appeals of the district of Columbia are to be advanced from $9,000 for the chief justice and $8,500 for associate justices to $12,500, and judges of the United States district courts from $7,500 to $10,000.

District Judges to $10,000.
The chief justice of the Supreme court of the district of Columbia would be raised from $8,000 to $10,500; associate justices of the Supreme court of the district from $7,500 to $10,000, and members of the board of general appraisers, the name of which was recently changed to the United States Customs court, from $9,000 to $10,000.

KILLED BY NOSE INJURY.
Hugh Burton, 33 years old, a laborer, died Sunday at St. Paul's hospital of blood poisoning from an injury to his nose.

NATION, STATES AND CITIES JOIN IN HONORING BYRD

New York, June 20.—(AP.)—The acclaim that nations give their heroes will be accorded Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd Jr. when the steamer Chantier, bringing him and his party, reaches New York Wednesday. For his achievement of flying over the north pole by airplane he will be welcomed by thousands, with representatives of the nation, states, and cities joining in the reception.

Upon leaving the Chantier at quarantine and boarding the city tug Macoma for the Battery, Lieutenant Commander Byrd will be escorted by a squadron of airplanes and a flotilla of city boats. At the city hall Mayor Walker will present to him a decoration on behalf of the city, and Representative Clifton A. Woodrum of Virginia, chairman of the congressional committee, will present a resolution adopted by congress.

Sharing prominently in the reception will be Floyd Bennett, naval aviator, who accompanied Byrd on the polar flight.

Arrest Woman on Booze Charge; 2d Time in Month

For the second time in a month the police raided an apartment at 1201 Roscoe street, seized beer and moonshine, and arrested the brewmistress, Mrs. Elizabeth Corneliason. A month ago the evidence exploded before the case got into court. This time it is being put in a cool place. Nine customers and Arthur Engleman, 1201 Roscoe street, the woman's partner, were also arrested.

LIFE SPAN OUGHT TO BE 150 YEARS; CULT TELLS HOW

Healing by Divine Thought
Secret of Longevity.

New York, June 20.—(AP)—Man should be able to attain an average life span of 150 years, Richard Lynch, president of the Unity society of this city, told more than 2,000 delegates to the annual congress of the International New Thought alliance today. Healing of physical ills with power of "divine thought," one of the cardinal principles of the New Thought movement, will lead to the increased life span, he explained.

The Rev. Albert G. Grier, pastor of the Church of the Truth in this city, said the human race is doomed unless evolution takes a new direction while man's brain grows, he asserted, the physical foundation is becoming undermined.

"The body is breaking under the terrible strain," he said. "The brain itself is reaching into insanity."

He suggested the spiritual development of man as a remedy.

James A. Edgerton of Washington, past president of the alliance, said: "We are in the midst of a reformation more profound even than that of Luther. The old reformation took man back to the Bible. The new one will take them back to Jesus Christ. The new reformation will bring spiritual healing back to its place as an important feature of the Christian ministry."

Mrs. Mary Chapin, president and founder of the alliance, is presiding at the congress, which will last more than a week.

BUTLER SCENTS RUM RING AT MARINE BASE; PUTS TEN UNDER GUARD

San Diego, Cal., June 20.—(Special.)—Seizure of nine enlisted men and one commissioned officer in a new marine corps liquor sensation has led to the suspicion that the marine base here was used as a center for a wholesale liquor smuggling ring previous to the arrival of Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler, commanding the base. The men are now held under heavy guard.

The papers for the court martial of the six men are now in the hands of Maj. Gen. John Lejeune, commanding general. He is expected to announce his decision regarding the case within the next few days.

According to rumors, more men are now under surveillance. This new marine liquor sensation, coming on the heels of the famous Butler-Williams "cocktail" court martial, may prove equally as spectacular as the Williams affair, which for several weeks held the center of the nation's interest.

CHARLES BYRON NEW WISCONSIN ALUMNI LEADER

Madison, Wis., June 20.—(Special.)—Charles L. Byron, Chicago, member of the 1908 graduating class of the University of Wisconsin, has been elected president of the University Alumni association to succeed George I. Haight, Chicago. Mr. Haight resigned several days ago because business demanded too much of his time.

Mrs. T. E. Brittingham, class of '89, Madison, was elected vice president; Prof. F. H. Elwell, '08, Madison, treasurer; Walter Alexander, '07, corresponding secretary; and William J. Muer, '10, member of the board of visitors.

It was voted to change the system of class reunions so that those graduating within a period of five years would hold their reunions at the same time.

FARM, RADIO AND RIVERS BESET CONGRESS' CLOSE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., June 20.—(Special.)—Farm, radio, and rivers and harbors legislation will furnish the chief controversies during the closing days of congress.

With the adjournment date tentatively set for June 30, the remaining ten days will be featured by clashes between proponents of the different measures which have a chance of action before the gavel falls.

Final disposition of farm legislation in the senate had been expected not later than tomorrow, but with a group of senators from great lakes states determined to delay a vote in order to postpone consideration of the rivers and harbors bill, against which they are conducting a filibuster, there is no certainty as to when action may come. The fact that the corn belt farm surplus bill is doomed to defeat has made many of those who otherwise would be anxious for an early vote indifferent.

Other Bills to Come.

Indications are that action on farm legislation may be put off until the middle of the week at least. Then will come a veterans' bill already passed by the house, after which the house radio bill with senate committee amendments is to get the right of way. The lakes states senators, whose filibuster is directed primarily against the Illinois river project in the rivers and harbors bill, are expected to prolong debate on both the veterans and radio bills with a view to using up at least all of the coming week.

Those engaged in the filibuster figure that if the rivers and harbors bill, which is still before the senate commerce committee, but is likely to be reported favorably tomorrow or Tuesday, can be sidetracked throughout this week it will be impossible for its supporters to force action during the three days that congress will be in session the following week.

Talk of Closure Rule.

While advocates of the Illinois river project talk of invoking closure to curtail debate on the rivers and harbors bill it will be useless to consider such a move until the measure has actually been under consideration for several days on the floor. Supporters of the rivers and harbors bill may seek to prolong the session in order to insure action, but it is doubtful if they will have sufficient strength to prevent adjournment on June 30. Night sessions are likely in the senate this week as a means of speeding up action on the various items of legislation.

FOUND DEAD NEAR HOME.

James Nelson, 38 years old, 66 West Van Buren street, was found dead yesterday in front of his home. The police believe he had been intoxicated and fell down the stairs.

CONGRESS QUIZ OF FEDERAL BANK SYSTEM LIKELY

Provision Is Inserted in McFadden Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., June 20.—[Special.]—A far reaching investigation of the effect of policies of the federal reserve system upon commodity prices is in prospect, if the two houses of congress approve the conference report on the McFadden banking bill.

Provision for this inquiry, which was included in the conference report at the instance of Representative King (Rep., Ill.), who, because of his opposition to branch bank and federal reserve charter provisions of the senate bill, had been chiefly responsible for the deadlock among the conferees, seems likely to make it possible for those who assailed the post-war deflation policies of the federal reserve board to renew their attacks upon the system.

Creates Special Committee.

The conference bill creates a joint special committee, "to make an inquiry into the prices of commodities in the United States as effective since the year 1914, if at all, by the federal reserve laws." While the federal reserve system is not specifically mentioned, 1914 was the date of its establishment and expectation is that the inquiry will be directed chiefly into its operations.

It is provided that the joint committee shall be made up of three members of the senate committee on banking and currency, to be appointed by the Vice President, and three members of the house committee on banking and currency, to be appointed by the speaker.

King to Attack Reserve System.

Representative King, who for several sessions has sought to obtain such an investigation, is expected to lead the attack upon the federal reserve system.

Consideration of the conference report in the house is scheduled for Tuesday. The chief contest will come against the branch bank compromise under which in states with anti-branch bank laws branches will be prohibited in cities below 100,000 and limited in larger cities in case the state laws are repealed in the future. The supporters of the so-called Hull amendments, which would have prohibited branch banking entirely, either in the present or future in states with anti-branch bank laws, will oppose the compromise.

Browning Plans $1,500,000 Estate for His Girl Bride

New York, June 20.—[Special.]—If Peaches Heenan Browning, bride of the Cinderella man, wants to ride up to her front door on her private yacht, why—she can. A $1,500,000 estate on Long Island, with a 2,100 foot Venetian canal leading from a twenty room house to the waters of Great South bay, will give her the opportunity. Her millionaire husband, Edward West Browning, yesterday closed a deal for 300 acres in Nassau county for the site. Mrs. Browning is to be 16 on June 23, her husband revealed.

ROYAL FAMILY OF ROUMANIA TO END ITS QUARREL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Austria, June 20.—According to the Allgemeine Zeitung, there is to be a general peace making in the Roumanian royal family and a return of the lost sheep to the fold. A few weeks ago, Gen. Condescu went to Paris on a secret mission—to effect a reconciliation between Prince Carol and his wife. The former Crown Princess Helene later arrived in Paris incognito to meet Carol. Carol is still living with Mme. Lupescu, but the couple is said to have exhausted their funds by their extravagance and Mme. Lupescu is tired of the suburbs. According to reports, with the disappearance of the prince's money Mme. Lupescu's passion has waned. It is believed in Bucharest that the former Crown Princess Helene's presence in Paris means a reconciliation of the couple. King Ferdinand will go to a French watering resort in July, when it is expected that father and son will make peace in the royal family.

March
established a new record in General Motors' History
-but April beat March
-and now May has beaten April
-141,651 cars

The experience of the last ten years indicates that April is the record month in retail automobile sales; and that May's sales should be only about 70% of April's.

When, therefore, the retail sales of General Motors cars in April of this year reached the unprecedented total of 136,643 cars, it was reasonable to assume that this would be the high mark, and that May would show a smaller total.

But May, instead of registering a decline, leaped ahead of April with sales to the public of 141,651 cars.

What do these mounting records indicate?

FIRST, that general business conditions are fundamentally sound. The increases in General Motors' sales are not sectional, nor limited to certain territories. They are nationwide; indeed, world-wide.

SECOND, a growing public recognition of these four General Motors principles: (1) Quality first and foremost. (2) The economies of a big organization passed on to the purchaser. (3) Low finance charges and fair terms. (4) Performance, appearance, comfort and safety, combined to give maximum value in each price class.

FINDS HER SON IN ASYLUM; "LOST AT SEA" IN WAR

Now Waits the Return of Memory at Home.

Atlanta, Ga., June 20.—(AP)—The unshaking faith of a Georgia mother who refused to believe the official navy report that her son had been lost at sea during the world war has been rewarded, eight years afterward. After a weary search of almost a decade, Mrs. J. C. Perry has in her hands the official report that her son, who was reported missing in 1918, was actually all hands lost.

The navy department notified Mrs. Perry and began sending her war risk and allotment benefits. But Mrs. Perry refused to believe her son dead, asserting she had seen him in a vision and that he was still alive, she set out on a nation-wide search. The man whom she recognized in the asylum did not recognize Mrs. Perry as his mother, but when she returned a few weeks later greeted her affectionately as "Mother," and recalled incidents of a Georgia childhood.

Family Identifies Him. Each visit found his memory improved, and several months later the patient was released to go back to Kingsland. There brothers and sisters of Thomas Perry, seeking to piece together other threads of memories, also identified him.

Records at the hospital showed that the patient had been picked up by police on the streets of Danville, Ill., in June, 1921, a victim of amnesia and in an exhausted physical condition. The family are puzzled by one thing. It's a pronounced foreign accent which they are at a loss to explain. They hope to learn that, too, when his complete mental faculties are restored.

Refuses to Think Him Dead. Thomas Perry enlisted in the navy in April of 1918, went to Norfolk, Va., and in the fall wrote his parents that he expected to ship on the British oil tanker Arca. The Arca was reported missing at sea on Oct. 2, 1918, with virtually all hands lost.

YOUNG BOB HEARS SENATORS LAUD HIS LATE FATHER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Washington, D. C., June 20.—(Special.)—Laying aside political differences, Republicans, Democrats, and insurgents in the senate united today in an impressive memorial service eulogizing the memory of the late Senator Robert M. La Follette, who died a year ago last Thursday.

"Young Bob," now a senator in his father's stead and occupying the chair held so many years by the elder La Follette, heard senators who had led the many bitter fights against the latter's policies during his lifetime pay high tribute to his character, courage, and sincerity.

Lenroot, Wheeler Eulogize Him. Chief among these were Senators Irvine L. Lenroot (Rep., Wis.) and Burton K. Wheeler (Dem., Mont.). Senator Wheeler broke away from the regular Democratic ranks in 1924 to become the teammate of the elder La Follette in his unsuccessful third party race for the presidency.

"We meet today to pay tribute to the memory of one who was one of the outstanding men of his day and generation," declared Senator Lenroot, reviewing the life story of La Follette. He summed it up as one of the "most remarkable careers in our country's history."

Many Offer Tributes. Others offering tributes were Senators Norris (Rep., Neb.), Borah (Rep., Idaho), Johnson (Rep., Cal.), Moses (Rep., N. H.), Fernald (Rep., Me.), Robinson (Dem., Ark.), Reed (Dem., Mo.), Walsh (Dem., Mont.), Simmons (Dem., N. C.), Dill (Dem., Wash.), Shipstead (Farmer-Labor, Minn.), and Frasier (Rep., N. D.).

N. Y. Port Sets New Record for Ship Departures

New York, June 20.—(AP)—A record number of 74 steamers departed yesterday from New York harbor. The previous greatest one day total, according to available records, was 68 on April 8, 1924.

A Wonderful Opportunity For Every Woman to Have a Perfect Figure

A PERFECT figure—natural beauty—is the desire and wish of every woman. This is now made possible by Charlie White and his Muscle Sense System. Let him show you how. Charlie White is doing this for hundreds, yes, thousands of others. He can also do it for you.

If you are stout or thin, perhaps some part of your body, neck, arms, bust, waist, abdomen, hips, thighs, calves, or ankles need to be developed or reduced, Charlie White can help you. You can now enjoy the rightful beauty and charm that you have yearned for.

All you have to do is call on Mr. White, at no obligation to yourself. Write or phone for an appointment. If Mr. White can help you he will tell you. He doesn't want one penny of your money unless he can convince you that by his new system you can have a perfect figure and natural beauty.

The example illustrated above is but one of many to which Charlie White can point with pride. Without drugs, apparatus, starvation diet or hours of weary gymnastics he has put women on the road to Beauty and Health. You, too, can be literally molded anew!

Twenty-one years of personal experience makes Charlie White the one man in Chicago rightly equipped to direct scientific body culture. His methods are based on natural laws. Every patient receives his personally directed exercises, after which women attendants give bath and facial and body massage.

Special claspings being formed greatly reduce the prices. One visit to Charlie White's Studio is enough for him to diagnose your case and to determine the number of treatments necessary to meet your need. Often it is possible to obtain results in a short time. Write, phone or call today!

HICKORY QUALITY PRODUCTS

You can enjoy real comfort this summer!

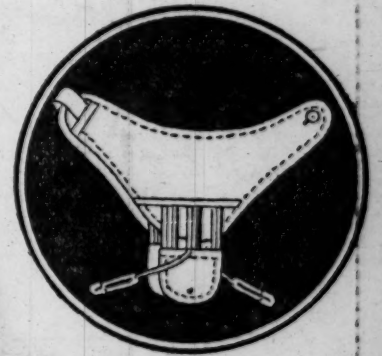

Wear your sheerest little georgette frock or your closest-clinging crepe in perfect security—a Hickory Sanitary Belt will keep you comfortable and preserve every slender line of the figure. Hickory Belts are so light, soft and conforming, you'll hardly know you have one on. They're the "belts that never bind" and they have many little convenient features that you'll appreciate, too—such as the taped-on and ever-ready safety pins. Be sure to see the various styles at your dealer's Hickory Month display now.

Hickory All-Elastic Belt—Sketched below. Step-in model of best quality elastic. A shaped belt, well fitting, soft and light. Flesh or white; medium, large or extra large. As low as 25c; satin trimmed, 50c.

Hickory Mesh Shield Belt—Comfortable shield portions of soft mesh. Elastic only at the sides. Front closing with pearl buttons. Easy to put on and take off. Flesh or white. Medium, large or extra large size. As low as 50c.

Hickory Belt with Satin Shield—Comfortably made of finest quality elastic and softest satin. Side closing with button. Elastic above pinning tabs to adjust their length. Flesh or white; in all waist sizes 22 to 36. As low as 50c.

Secura Clasp on Hickory Belts
Woman's way in personal hygiene has been changing. And now Hickory is ready with the exclusive patented Secura Clasp to replace the time-honored safety pins on Hickory Belts—a clasp especially designed for use with gauze tab sanitary pads.

For the new way in personal hygiene
Secura Clasp is small... neat... flat... handy! It can't possibly bend, slip, tear the gauze or work loose and it makes a flatter attachment of the gauze to the belt. Any model in Hickory Belts may now be had with Secura Clasp. As low as 50c.

Cincinnati, O., June 20.—After a fast ride from Brooklyn and Philadelphia the Cubs and Reds performed here today in a double header, dividing the games as well as a large chunk of money because more than 25,000 fans were present. The Reds took the first game, 5 to 1, and the Cubs topped the second, 4 to 3.

After Sherif Blake forced a win in the opener against Carl Mays, Manager McCarthy sent Tony Kaufmann to the plate for the Cubs in the first inning. Though he attempted to pitch, though his arm felt O. K. when he started, the old muckwump in the sixth inning and he had to quit. Charlie Root stepped in and saved the game.

Bombard Mr. Nehf.

Arthur Nehf, the veteran southpaw and late of the Giants, made his first start on the slab for the Reds in the second encounter, and the old timer was knocked out in the first round, the Cubs whaling home four runs in that inning. Red Lucas came in for the use of Nehf and it was well for the Cubs that he didn't start the game or come in a minute or two earlier, because during the rest of the game the Cubs were demoralized by the loss of Nehf, his hopping fast ball and his wild hair.

Adams had opened on Nehf with a "walk" and went to third on Conney's single. Scott singled, scoring Sparks, and then Wilson advanced Conney and went with his out, after which Stephens laughed a single that scored Conney and Scott. That was all for the Reds in the first, and before the game had begun, Stephens singled, sending Stephens to third, from where he was out on Tolson's sacrifice fly. There were the four runs which turned out to be just enough to win.

Root Finishes Strong.

The Reds counted twice on Tony in the fourth on a single by Brenner, a triple by Tolson and a sacrifice fly by Hargrave. They got their other run off Root in the seventh when he was wild and passed Walker and Chris Brown before any one was out. Root was roped out, but Willie Pipp crashed a single to left that sent Walker home; then Root made the fellows pop out for the rest of the game.

The veteran Carl Mays with his submarine delivery and a few sparkling support from his infielders had no trouble in downing the Cubs in the opening game. The boys gathered seven hits off Mays, but after the first inning weren't able to get any one around.

They started the first with such gusto that for a minute it looked as if they would demolish Mays. But after a minute it looked that way.

Mays in Command.

Sparky Adams led off with a one hit punch to center and Conney followed with one to left. Kelly bunted and Sparky was cut down at third, after which a wild pitch let Conney slide third and Kelly scored. Conney scored while Hack Wilson was being thrown out and that was all the scoring there was for the McCarthy crew.

The Reds tied the count in the first on Walker's single and Brenner's single and they went into the lead in the second by one run when Chris doubled and scored on Pipp's single. Dike then went along on even terms with Mays as a pitcher until the seventh, when his wildness allowed the Reds to sew up the game. Mays and Drennon walked to start that row, then Walker doubled, scoring Mays, after which Chris produced a sacrifice fly that sent Drennon home and he walked on third, from where he came home on a wild pitch.

Eyes of Tennis World Turns
Toward Wimbledon Meeting

Wimbledon, England, June 20.—

(U.N.)—The Wimbledon championships, emblematic of the world's tennis supremacy, will begin tomorrow.

With the notable exceptions of Helen Wills and Bill Johnston, the American champions, Little Bill Johnston of California, and the Australian stars, the greatest players in the world will compete on the historic courts.

As a prelude to the opening of play, Suzanne Lenglen will pair with her former partner, Elizabeth Ryan of California, in an exhibition doubles match against Mrs. de Alvarez and Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfree.

Kinsey to See Early Action.

Then the men will begin the tournament with the first round of the singles. Howard Kinsey of California is scheduled to meet C. P. Dixon of England in one of the first matches. The outstanding favorite of the tourney is Suzanne, who is expected to romp through the women's singles without opposition. Her best opponents are Mrs. Godfree, who defeated

Arrangements Completed for Intercity Prep Ball Game

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

The White Sox split even with the Yankees. And that's nothing to scoff about. The Yankees are playing ball, they're pulling together, and they're confident that when the close of the season comes around they still will be leading the league.

How are they going to keep us out of the world series? Pennock asks. "We need only to win half of our games from now on."

If you're interested in baseball you'll attend the intercity games between Lane Tech and Evanston Chula High school of New York. A championship will be at stake when those high school boys take the field at Cubs park next Friday. Eighteen young fellows will be striving to play the best baseball they know. Alfred Thorp, who pitches for Lane, is a star of the high school league. He's batting .700 this season. Every schoolboy in Chicago will be pulling for him to fool those New York batters.

From the diamonds of Chicago schools have come a score of baseball heroes. Kusanow, captain of Lane in 1924, is captain elect of the University of Illinois nine; Puckewitz, center fielder for Lane in '24, is captain elect at the University of Michigan. Fans will recall other prep school heroes who have made good in faster baseball. There is Freddie Lindstrom who started at Loyola academy, now playing with the Giants. There's Stanwood Baumgartner, Rube Ehrhardt, and Paul Florence.

Attend this coming intercity game and you may watch one of the future stars of baseball.

Helen Wills says she feels sufficiently fit to play in the tennis championships at Wimbledon, England. She even wired the committee to enter her in the singles. Later she got a cable from her father in California telling her not to play. And immediately she announced that she was heading home as an example of laudable obedience.

Walter Hagen again demonstrates that he is the greatest money player among the pros of golf. He has changed hands by his defeat of Abe Mitchell, hailed as the peer of British professionals. Realization of the cash value that depends on each stroke apparently makes Hagen's game the stronger. When we attempt to estimate Hagen's supreme confidence in his ability we think of the following story. Hagen, engaged in medal play, had to sink a thirty foot putt to win an important tourney.

The player whose low score would win if Hagen missed the putt was in the clubhouse. Hagen studied the green, then called her caddy, and told him to find the runper.

"Bring him out here," Hagen said. "I want him to see me sink this putt and beat him." The player came to the green and Hagen sank the putt.

One of the remarkable features of the Yankee golfers' invasion of the British isles is the equally high showing of Hagen and Jones. Last winter when the noted pro and the noted amateur played a 72 hole match for the benefit of a Florida charity, Hagen defeated Jones so easily the story of the match was a flop. Hagen's friends were exultant.

Now with Jones acclaimed in England as the greatest golfer of his day, it is the turn of Jones' friends to boast. The two enter the finals of the British open crown on equal terms.

Jones probably has the greatest number of friends; Hagen the greatest number of backers.

The rules under which boxing is to be conducted in Illinois are not as fair. Friends of the sport are hoping they'll be enforced promptly and without stretching in favor of any one. Before many months have passed New York may have taken second rank as a boxing center.

Meems Druggan and Lake, whose interest in beer has been diverted to race horses, are barred from the Aurora track 40 minutes before the close of a 27 day meeting. Drastic action.

43,000 WATCH
BABE, BUT HOSE
DO THE HITTINGTed Relieves Faber
in Rough Going.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Principally because George Herman Ruth is one of baseball's most powerful magnets, 43,000 folks poured into Comiskey park yesterday for the largest crowd ever within the inclosure. And because a good many thousands of that crowd were able to beat down the Yankees' Urban Faber, and then the eighth giving the winners the extra tally.

On three different occasions one paise socked athlete or another hoisted the pill beyond the reach of an outfielder. Out of those three times came all the victors' tallies. On the other hand, the Yankees, with their powerful long distance hitters, couldn't drive a ball even close to the two base hit zone and had to be content with singles. There was a reason, however, in fact, two reasons, first being Urban Faber, and then Ted Blankenship, who had to hike to the veteran's rescue when the going became tough.

So Score Two in First.

The Collins boys started powerfully well with a pair of runs in the first inning off Urban Shocker, who, like the opposing Urban, threw spitballs. The Yanks shaved down the handicap by one in the third and the Sox came back with one in the sixth. In the seventh Faber tottered a bit, and two scratch hits that Eddie Collins in his palmier days would have smothered brought on a 3 to 2 tie and forced Blankenship to hustle out with a rescue stunt that was so effective that no safe could have held him in his two and two-thirds innings of work.

While Ruth was the center of attraction he did nothing in keeping with his reputation. Once he hoisted a high fly to Falk and the next time grounded easily to Sheely. In the sixth he came through with a single that had Faber squirming and a few minutes, and in his last appearance in the seventh he was walked purposely. The crowd complained lustily about this, but the bouncer didn't alter Boss Collins' idea of strategy.

Ted Rescues Faber.

The first one of the Sox to slam the ball into the overflood was Sheely. He did it in the opening inning, and then he followed with a single and a double. Blankenship scored on Koenig's error. The double scored Hunnefeld and Collins strolled home a moment later while Falk was being thrown out.

New York's leaders dented Faber's armor with a run in the third because Hunnefeld slipped. Pat Collins left off with a single and went home on a sacrifice. Then a double by Sheely forced a second if "Honey Boy" hadn't dropped Faber's peg on Shocker's tap. In two subsequent plays P. Collins and Shocker were stranded by the line, but Gehrig came through with a single and Combs tallied. The Sox retrieved the tally on Falk's double into the crowd and Barrett's single in the sixth.

Four singles in succession by Shocker, Combs, Koenig, and Gehrig in the seventh scored two and knotted the count, whereupon Faber was hauled out of the picture. Blankenship came along and handed Ruth his intentional pass, filling the bases, and nothing further happened, because both Meusel and Lazzeri tapped to the infield.

Hutchison, Ayton Beat

Espinosa, Alschlager, 3-2

Jock Hutchison and Laurie Ayton yesterday defeated Al Espinosa and Walter Alschlager in a four ball exhibition match at the Illinois Golf club, 3 and 2. Hutchison had rounds of 71 and 71; Ayton, 69 and 74; Espinosa, 70 and 72; and Alschlager a pair of 79s. In the club competition Harry Foster won the blind bogey prize with 86.

SCHAEFFER AND PETROLLE SET FOR E. CHICAGO BOUT

Smith Meets Rychell in Semi-Windup.

Being fans, augmented by scores of visitors in the city, will attend the contest between Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., and Frankie Schaeffer of the south side, who meet tonight in the main event of the fight show at East Chicago.

The bout will be a ten round bout, with the weight 135 pounds and the Elks of East Chicago the sponsors of the show.

Petrolle and Schaeffer engaged (TRIBUNE Photo) in light gymnasium workouts yesterday. They did just enough work to insure the making of weight at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Both are in excellent condition, according to their managers.

Both Men Hard Punchers. Each fighter carries a sock in his right hand and the bout may terminate at any time. Neither is afraid to lead and it should be a contest full of action as long as it lasts.

Schaeffer has made several good fights in East Chicago and Aurora rings, while Petrolle's showing against Sid Tevis stamps him as one of the leading fighters in the lightweight division.

The ten round semi-windup between Midget Smith of New York and Ray Rychell of the south side is attracting considerable interest. Smith and Rychell are aggressive and hit fairly hard. They will scale 120 pounds at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Good Preliminary Card. Marshall Letch of Gary, Ind., and Jimmy Shaw, a local bantamweight, will open the show in a four round engagement. Hy Gottfried and Johnny Harris, south side lightweight, will bring together Ray Pryel of Pittsburgh and Marty Walsh of Chicago, welterweights; and Sammy Shack of New York and Bobby Hughes of New Orleans, bantamweights.

WOMAN CAPTURES CLASS SHOOT AT LINCOLN TRAPS
A doubles event and a class shoot, in which a woman was one of the victors, featured the program held yesterday at the Lincoln park traps. The doubles, which was captured by D. B. Baker, who shot a 43, was at two twenty-five pairs at sixteen yards. Baker also won the B class trophy with a score of 94.

The class shoot winners besides Baker were: Class A—Frank Huseman, 99; Class C—John Tork, 90; Class D—Mrs. J. M. May, 79. The high professional of the day was Edward Troeh, who broke 96 out of 100 targets at sixteen yards' rise.

MOON MULLINS—YOUTH MUST HAVE ITS FLING

Notes of the Sox and Cubs

THE Sox record against the eastern clubs was nine wins and five defeats. Against Boston it was two wins and one beating, and the same against the Athletics. Washington took one out of four and the Yankees broke even in four.

The Cleveland Indians will open a four game series on the south side today. The Sox can expect to look at plenty of left handed pitching as long as Speaker's club stays here.

Yesterday's 43,000 turnout included the pass gate patrons. The largest previous attendance was slightly over 41,000 at a city series game for which no passes are issued.

Manager Collins was robbed of a sure two base hit to start the eighth when Gehrig ran behind first base and made a one handed pickup. He threw to Shocker who covered.

The weather was warm so the umpires donned their gray flannel suits.

Ruth's single in the sixth was followed by a hit off Meusel's bat and a pass to Lazzeri. Two were dead before the trouble loomed and Faber pulled out of the inning successfully when Dugan popped to Hunnefeld.

TEN MILE RACE TO FEATURE MEET AT GARFIELD PARK
The ten mile modified marathon during the athletic carnival to be staged by the Garfield Park Business Men's association during the week of July 19th to 24th, will be open to all amateurs registered with the Central Association of the A. A. U.

There will also be a four mile modified marathon of novices.

Entries for the bicycle and marathon events can be made with Julian T. Fitzgerald at 2848 West North ave. For all other features, entries can be made with John J. McGowan at the Garfield Park State Savings bank.

President Veck of the Cubs, accompanied by his family, was present at the game, having motored down from Chicago.

Eddie Roush, the hard hitting outfielder of the Reds, is out of the game, suffering from a charley horse. His place is being filled by Christensen, former St. Paul star.

Every seat in the stand and bleacher was filled here today and all the aisles and space back of the stand was taken by fans. The attendance was announced officially as 25,702 paid. The weather was ideal.

Capt. Grimm of the Cubs may be out of the game a few days because of a severe injury to his knee. In the second inning Plonch crashed into him trying to get back to first base ahead of a throw. It seemed as if Grimm's knee was dislocated. Tolson will perform at first.

Christensen stopped the Cubs from scoring in the sixth round of the second game with a most spectacular catch and throw to the plate. Freigau was on third, with no one out, when Tolson raised a fly to short center. Christensen rushed it, made the catch off his toes, and then, although stumbling headlong, pegged perfectly to the plate and nailed Freigau.

Semi-Pro League to Hold Regular Meeting Tonight
The regular weekly meeting of the Chicago Semi-Pro Baseball league will be held at 160 North Wells street, Room 207, at 8 p. m. tonight. The Boys' Liberty, and Junior divisions will gather there at 6 p. m.

Shaw Breaks 20 Mile Mark at Crown Point

One record was broken in the auto races at Crown Point yesterday with Wilbur Shaw and Dutch Baumann of Indianapolis sharing honors with Walter Martins of Chicago. Shaw accounted for the record of 20:18.25 in the 20 mile event, won the ten mile race and placed third in the other two. Martins won the two and half mile race, and placed second in the remaining three. Baumann was the winner of the five miler, and took second in the 2 1/2.

Car Bursts Into Flames.
Gus Schraeder of Des Moines started out to stir things up in the second race, but his car caught fire and he was forced into the pits in a burst of flame. He was slightly burned. Martins, Shaw and Eckstrom tangled on one of the turns in the ten mile event. Martins hitting Eckstrom, who was a lap behind, just as he took the lead from Shaw. Both cars slid across the track, but skillful handling kept them upright.

Talament Is Injured.
Sonny Talament, last year's hero, was injured in the same event. He dove into third place, after giving more than half the race with slivers of glass in his eye, from a broken goggles. He was not seriously injured.

TWO AND A HALF MILES.—Won by Walter Martins, Chicago, Dutch Baumann, Indianapolis, second; Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis, third. Time—2:20.5.

FIVE MILES.—Won by Dutch Baumann, Martins, second; Shaw, third. Time—4:37.5.

TEN MILES.—Won by Wilbur Shaw, Walter Martins, second; Dutch Baumann, Indianapolis, third. Time—9:32.45.

TWENTY MILES.—Won by Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis; Walter Martins, Chicago, second; Louis Schneider, Indianapolis, third. Time—20:18.25. (New track record.)

Four auto races and three exhibition greyhound races will make up the program for the Illinois Kennel club meet Sunday at the Thornton track, 175th and Halsted streets.

Eckersall's Gossip of the Boxers

BOXING rules as announced by the commission have resulted in favorable comment in local gymnasiums and other places where the boxing fraternity congregate. Close followers of the game were particularly pleased with the decision clause, while the many other rules, if rigidly enforced, should make Chicago the boxing center of the world.

Commissioner Paul Perna, who was mostly responsible for the wrestling rule, wants it known that referees must give decisions in all time limit bouts. It is generally the case in Chicago that all windups go on at 10 o'clock. In such cases the semi-windup seldom results in a fall and a draw is the general verdict. In the future, however, the referee must render decisions in case there is no fall, but the wrestler who wins one fall during such a time limit engagement shall be declared the winner.

The commission will resume its daily sessions today. The work of licensing referees, promoters, managers, fighters, and seconds will occupy their time for most of the week. Starting next week the commission will hold two meetings weekly unless extenuating circumstances make a special session imperative.

Charles Weinert, the eastern heavyweight, accompanied by Manager Billy McCarney, will pass through Chicago this morning on his way from the coast to New York. While in Chicago McCarney will hold a conference with Promoter Mullen relative to Weinert's appearance in Chicago this summer or fall.

Following his bout with Chuck Helman in Portland, Ore., on Friday night, Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute (Ind.) bantamweight, will return to Chicago. It now looks as if Taylor will meet Phil Rosenberg for the world's

Ex-Sox Hurler Pitches No Hit, No Run Game
Reading, Pa., June 20.—(AP)—Walter Leverenz, former Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns hurler, pitched a no hit, no run game against Reading today. Leverenz missed pitching a perfect game by walking Pitt twice, the only times a Reading man reached first base. His teammates gave him perfect support. Buffalo won the game, 7 to 0.

YACHTS START ON 660 MILE RACE

New London, Conn., June 20.—(AP)—The international yachting classic, a 660-mile ocean race to Bermuda, started from here today. Weather conditions were ideal. Seventeen yachts including the British cutter Jolie Brise and the Nova Scotian schooner Gauntlet started.

$125,000 WILL BE SPENT AT AURORA TRACK

Improvements Announced as Meet Ends.

BY FRENCH LANE.

While a special trainload of race horses left Aurora yesterday for the Windsor track in Canada, owners of several hundred other thoroughbreds are lingering at Exposition park track awaiting developments in Chicago district racing.

(TRIMBLE PHOTO.)

Most of them will be forced to move on within a few days, however, for $125,000 is to be spent for improvements at the Aurora track between now and next spring, and the program calls for the removal at once of most of the stables from the present location on the back stretch around to north of the paddock.

Provide Regulation Track.

The change will provide room for a regulation mile track, doing away with the short first turn, which has been one of the big handicaps to the sport since it was established there.

The entire track will also be worked and a mixture of sand and loam stirred into the black dirt, which will make the running strip safe in any kind of going.

Manager Trimble did not make public the profit his association derived out of the spring season when record crowds were attracted to the sport, but in announcing his improvement program said the $125,000 represented considerable more than half of the profits on the meeting.

Track Followers Leave.

There was a general scattering of owners, trainers, jockeys and track followers yesterday, and while most of them expect to see considerable racing in the Chicago district during the summer and fall, they will put in the few weeks' intermission at tracks now in operation.

A number left for Latonia and Fairmount, others went to Canada, some departed for Ohio, and still others are on their way to New York.

Several stables plan to ship to Peoria when more definite plans concerning the proposed meeting there are announced.

Cermaks Overcome Lead to Beat Florals, 6 to 5

The Cermaks came from behind to beat out the Duffy Florals, 6 to 5, at Cermak park yesterday. Score: Duffy Florals.....000 000 000-5
Cermaks.....301 000 11-6
Belcher-Wall and Welch; Schullis, Murrey and Goldthwaite.

Chicago Blues Vanquish Rogers Park Nine, 13-9

Dave Black allowed three hits yesterday and the Chicago Blues had an easy time in vanquishing Rogers Park in the feature game of a double bill at the Blues' park, 5 to 0. In the opener Jefferson Park toppled Evanston, 13 to 9.

North Shores Defeat Fuqua Giants, 13 to 1

The North Shores trimmed the Fuqua Giants in a midwest league game at Welles park yesterday, 13 to 1. Elschen fanned 12 and allowed only four hits, while his mates were collecting seventeen safeties. Score: Fuqua Giants.....000 000 001-1
North Shores.....410 250 08-13 17 0

Midwest Baseball League to Hold Meeting Tonight

The Chicago, Cook County and Mid-west Baseball league will meet at 118 North La Salle street tonight at 8 o'clock. Boys' teams holding franchises are requested to have representatives present at 7 o'clock.

EXHIBITION GAMES.

These Statistics Should Make Men Rush to the Altar!

BY DORIS BLAKE.

The old question as to whether married men live longer than bachelors—or does it only seem longer?—is revived again in the recent disclosures made by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner of Chicago.

A new clause is added to the old riddle and solved by Dr. Bundesen's statistics, apparently. The divorced men provide it, and for arguments of longevity they may as well be classed as bachelors. In other words, it isn't enough to wed to be assured promise of a long life and a healthful one—but you have to stay wed.

"Whether gentlemen prefer blondes, brunettes, or redheads, they should make their selections early and take their promises to be true for all time seriously," according to the health commissioner.

"Buy a divorce and a little home—and expect to live twice as long as your bachelor friends," is counseled. The advice is supported by statistics recently compiled by the Chicago health department.

"Out of every thousand divorced men between the ages of 25 and 34 last year 15 died. Out of a similar number of single men, 5 died, and out of the thousand married men, only 1 died."

"Taking the group between the ages of 35 and 44, out of a thousand in each class, 18 divorced, 14 single, and 1 married man died."

"Next," says Dr. Bundesen, "comes the age between 45 and 54, with a tendency to plumpness and overweight. Statistics reveal that whereas 27 divorced and 23 single men died in each

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

Three Kittens to Give.

"I have three part Persian kittens for which I would like to find good homes. They are really beautiful kittens with silky fur. Mrs. S. G. P."

Sheet Music to Give.

"Some one has kindly given me some sheet music for the piano, both classical and popular numbers, which we shall be happy to give to any one wanting them. L. W."

thousand of this class, only 14 married men succumbed.

"On toward middle age, between 55 and 64, in their respective groups of 1,000, 49 bachelors, 56 divorced men, and only 29 married men died last year."

"Out of 1,000 over 65, 116 divorced and 112 single men died, while only 80 of those happy though married passed away."

All of which proves that home cooking and a woman to see that you put your rubbers on when they're needed is worth the price of one good binding marriage license, don't you think, gentlemen?

Elmer Enjoys Radio's Report of Holy Rites

Praises Father Pernin as Services' Announcer.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

To many of us yesterday radio spoke in a new voice.

The ceremonies at the Holy Name cathedral, lasting from 10:40 a. m. to 12:20 p. m., were broadcast through WLS, WGN, KYW, Chicago, and WHN, New York City. The Holy Name service at the same cathedral, 8 to 9 p. m., was broadcast through WLS, KYW, and WEHI.

The importance of these broadcasts from a radio standpoint was made apparent by turning to the doings throughout the day at other stations, these seeming insignificant by comparison.

The addresses themselves were of national interest, especially those of the morning service. This service was also extremely impressive in its musical accompaniment, combining the organ, fifty members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, and a combined choir of 250 members of Quigley Memorial seminary and the Seminary of the Lady of the Lake.

Another important factor was the exposition of the liturgical details by the Rev. Claude J. Pernin, as announcer for the Chicago Broadcasters' association. Father Pernin wisely took it for granted that there were large numbers in the radio audience who did not understand the liturgy of the mass, and his explanations must have been generally appreciated.

Speaking frankly, I felt that during the morning service the assistant announcer's voice sounded like the intrusion of the secular world in the midst of a sacred scene. Since there was no intrusion of this kind noticed in the evening broadcast it would seem advisable that announcing during the solemn ritualistic portions of all services be handled entirely, if possible, by Father Pernin.

N. U. Students Active in Religion, Survey Shows

Northwestern university again has been investigating its religious status. According to a report announced yesterday a survey reveals that 72 percent of the students give some attention to religion. The women hold a slight lead over the men and nonfraternity and nonsorority members show the best record.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address: Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Overheard.

My most embarrassing moment occurred while a friend and I were attending a musical contest at one of our county high schools.

After one of the contestants had partly finished her song my friend remarked that she did not like her singing, but after the song was completely finished I said (evidently louder than I thought), "Well, she can't sing."

About that time I was aware that the woman directly in front of me had suddenly turned about in her seat and, looking directly at me, said, "O she can't? Well, I guess she can. She happens to be my daughter."

L. P. H.

Speaking Up in Meeting.

My most embarrassing moment occurred in church last Sunday night. The preacher said, "Do you think Paul was justified in doing what he did?" Of course he was going to answer the question himself.

When I heard it I arose and said, "No, I don't think he was."

Then there was a great uproar and laughing from some of the people. And that the earth would have opened up and swallowed me!

Science Broadcasts Pope's Message to Thousands Outside of Cathedral, Where Eucharistic Congress Opened

CATHEDRAL RECEPTION TO PAPAL LEGATE. At the left, inside of altar rail, was the throne of Cardinal Bonzano, under a canopy. To the right, opposite his throne, was a wide one for the other cardinals. To the right, outside of the altar rail, stood Cardinal Mundelein in the pulpit, reading an address of welcome. In front of him, on both sides of the main aisle, sat archbishops and bishops.

RECALLS LANDING OF FATHER MARQUETTE. Standing at Robey street and the Chicago river yesterday, in a city of 3,000,000 people, Bishop Prudhomme of St. Albert and Saskatoon, Canada, recalled that 253 years ago the missionary from New France had landed at that spot, then in a wilderness.

MADDEN HALTS
PLAN FOR HOUSE TO END SESSION

Friends of Pending
Bills Back Him

BY ARTHUR SEARS HEN
Washington, D. C., June 21.
—Aiming to break up the in the senate against the waterway measure, Repres Madden (Rep., Ill.), today led a revolt against the res
sponsored by house leaders
adjournment of congress June 30.
Mr. Madden succeeded in a members interested in the river harbors bill, in farm relief an regulation to force the refer the adjournment resolution ways and means committee, by of 131 to 123. All of the grou
against adjourning congress un regulation they are pressing upon.

The effect of the action en by Mr. Madden is to sidetrack adjournment resolution for the
at least. Chairman Green la, indicated tonight that he observe the trend of events for days before taking steps toward the resolution.

Expect Finish By July 3
The prospect now is that co will adjourn between June 30 an and that the resolution fixin data will be brought forward week. That the rivers and har bill can be passed, however, this session ends is doubtful.

Meantime the senate commerce committee had written a new Illinois item into the rivers and harbor in an effort to compromise the ences between the Illinois membe the foes of diversion of lake at Chicago. This is the revise vision:

"Illinois river, Illinois: Modif of existing project so as to pro channel with least dimensions o feet in depth and two hundred width from the mouth to Utica vided, that the state of Illinois fers to the United States witho of rights and titles in the two owned dams on the Illinois rive that local interests furnish the States without cost all necessary for the economical disposal of m drogged in creating and main the channel herein and hereby a ted; provided further, that th herby authorized to be appro sum not to exceed $3,500,000."

Depends on Court Opinion
In this proposed provision th merce committee has omitted a reference to the Chicago diversion, will stand or fall according to primo court decision in the brought by Michigan and Wis Under this phraseology, the in will begin at the mouth of Illinois and progress toward Ut stead of vice versa, and therefo according to its authors, will no the necessity of diversion to the required volume of water.

Senator Deneen (Rep., Ill.) an representatives Madden and Will Hall (Rep., Ill.) were inclined treat the commerce committee measure, but telegraphed the Chic thistles for an expression of o Opposition Unappeased.
The effort at compromise, ho has failed to allay the oppositio
the Willis (Rep., O.) and Rep
Burton (Rep., O.) said it not do. They contended that pr any Illinois waterway will diversion at Chicago. Senator preparing to filibuster the river and harbor bill as soon reaches the senate floor. He to move an amendment consist the bill, revising the United statutes, which comprises the all the laws in force, weigh 18 p and would take the reading week to read.

The mechanics of legislatio are that a filibuster could de river and harbor bill if Co closures any time before July closure could be applied.
senators are expected to vo
the bill, but a considerable n of its Democratic supporters against closure, which would a two-thirds majority.

One of the most powerful arg
Mr. Madden used against the J adjournment resolution was date of the session end the senate would be in to load down the deficien
new and extravagant ite them down the throat
on the eve of adjournment
